Not only will the club celebrate the anniversaries of two World Series titles (1975 and 1990 as depicted by the special edition "25 and 10" patch), but also the induction of Tony Perez into the National Baseball Hall Of Fame, the presentation of the Ford C. Frick Award by the Hall of Fame to legendary Reds' broadcaster Marty Brennaman, and the induction of former manager Sparky Anderson into the Reds' Hall of Fame. At press time, Sparky was also a leading candidate to be elected into the Baseball Hall of Fame on a vote by the veterans committee. And last but not least, Ken Griffey Jr. returns home to Cincinnati after being acquired by the Reds from Seattle on February 10, 2000.*

THE HALL IS CALLING

by Rob Butcher

Baseball's Hall of Fame has already reserved space for Reds' living legends Tony Perez and Marty Brennaman. Is Sparky Anderson next?

The induction of Tony Perez and the presentation of the Ford C. Frick Award to broadcaster Marty Brennaman will highlight the National Baseball Hall of Fame ceremonies on July 23 in Cooperstown, NY. Sparky Anderson, Manager of the Big Red Machine teams of the 1970s, this season will be enshrined into the club's Hall of Fame and at press time was a leading candidate to be elected into the National Baseball Hall of Fame when veterans committee members met on February 29.

Tony Perez, the first baseman on Cincinnati's Big Red Machine World Series championship teams of 1975 and '76, will enter the players' wing of the Hall of Fame along with Red Sox and White Sox catcher Carlton Fisk. They were elected by the Baseball Writers Association of America on January 11.

Perez will be the third member of the Big Red Machine to be enshrined in the Hall of Fame, joining Johnny Bench (1989) and Joe Morgan (1990). He was inducted into the Reds' Hall of Fame in August 1998 and will become the organization's 32nd player to be enshrined into the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Perez was elected to the National Baseball HOF in his ninth year on the ballot.

Among Perez' career highlights: Was a seven-time All-Star and MVP of the 1967 All-Star Game...appeared in five World Series and six League Championship Series...his 1,652 RBI are the most among players from Latin America and the 18th-highest total among all Major League players...is the first Cuban-born player elected to the Hall by the Baseball Writers Association of America and the second Cuban-born player enshrined (Negro Leagues star Martin Dihigo was elected by the veterans committee in 1977)...with 379 HR, is tied with Orlando Cepeda for second all-time among players from Latin America...ranks among Major League Baseball's all-time leaders in RBI (18th), games (19th), at bats (25th), doubles (33rd), home runs (T40th), hits (47th) and runs scored (104th)...ranks among the Reds' all-time leaders in RBI (2nd), home runs (3rd), total bases (3rd), games (4th), at bats (4th), hits (4th), extra-base hits (4th) and doubles (5th)...played 23 years from 1964-86; only 14 Major League players played more seasons...from 1967-76, led all Major League players with 1,028 RBI...produced at least 100 RBI seven times, including at least 90 in 11 consecutive seasons from 1967-77.

Reds radio announcer Marty Brennaman will receive the Ford C. Frick Award, presented each year by the National Baseball Hall of Fame to a broadcaster "for major contributions to the game of baseball". Brennaman and Red Barber (WSAI, 1934-38) are the only Reds announcers ever to receive the Hall of Fame's prestigious broadcasting award.

Brennaman is in his 36th year as a broadcaster. He joined the Reds' radio team in 1974 and for the past 27 seasons has shared the 700 WLW Radio booth with Reds Hall of Fame pitcher Joe Nuxhall. Brennaman has been named Ohio Sportscaster of the Year 12 times, most recently in 1998. He won the Virginia Sportscaster of the Year Award four times while broadcasting basketball games for the American Basketball Association's Virginia Squires, baseball games for the New York Mets' Class AAA affiliate in Norfolk and football games for both Virginia Tech and William & Mary. He also has broadcast games during the NCAA's men's basketball tournament, including 13 regional tournaments and seven Final Fours.

Brennaman graduated in 1965 from the University of North Carolina and began his broadcasting career at WGHP-TV in High Point, NC. In 1970 he received his first job as a play-by-play announcer for the Squires, and in 1971 he began his career as a baseball announcer for the Norfolk Tides of the International League. In 1974, he was selected from more than 200 applicants to succeed Al Michaels as play-by-play announcer for the Reds on 700 WLW Radio and since then has teamed with Nuxhall to become one of the longest-running broadcast duos in sports history. Brennaman punctuates Reds' victories with his signature call, "And this one belongs to the Reds!"

George "Sparky" Anderson, field manager of Cincinnati's legendary Big Red Machine, in January 1998 was elected to the Reds Hall of Fame by the local chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America. This season he will be recognized for that honor. Anderson, who went 2,194-1,834 (.545) in 26 Major League seasons with the Reds and Tigers, will become the 54th member of the club's Hall of Fame and the first since Tony Perez and Cy Seymour were enshrined in 1998.

From 1970-78, Anderson led the Reds to an 863-586 record, five NL West Division titles, four pennants and two World Series. His '75 and '76 teams combined to go 210-114 (.629) and became the first franchise in 54 years to win consecutive World Championships. He is the Reds' all-time leader in victories (863) and winning percentage (.596). He was named National League Manager of the Year in 1972 and '75 by The Associated Press and American League Manager of the Year in 1984 and '87 by the Baseball Writers Association of America. He is the only manager to win a World Series in both leagues, the only manager to lead two franchises in victories and was the first manager to win 100 games in a season in both leagues.

He joined Detroit for the 1979 season and went 1,331-1,248 (.516) through 1995. In 1984 he led the Tigers to their first World Series title in 16 years and in 1987, led them to the A.L. East Division title. Anderson's 2,194 career victories is the third-highest total in history behind Connie Mack (3,731) and John McGraw (2,763). He joins Mack, McGraw and Bucky Harris as the only managers to participate in 4,000 games.

Cincinnati Nicknames Over the Years

The Cincinnati franchise began play in 1869 as the Red Stockings due, not surprisingly, to the color of their game hosiery. The club has undergone a few name changes over the years, first shortening the name to Reds, then briefly during the 1950s, being known as the Redlegs.

Opinions vary as to exactly when "Red Stockings" became shortened to just "Reds," but team histories refer to the club as Reds when the National League was founded in 1876, and by 1882, the more formal Red Stockings name was no longer in favor. In fact, instead of "Red Stockings," fans of that era might have been more likely to refer to the Cincinnati team as the "Porkopolitans," a reference to the city's (and the club hierarchy's) interest in the meat-packing industry.

During the 1950s, the era of Joseph McCarthy and the Red scare, the term "Red" was seen in a very different light. Thus during the seasons of 1953-58, the Cincinnati ballclub was called the Redlegs, so as not to give any appearance of an affiliation with Communism.

REDS

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

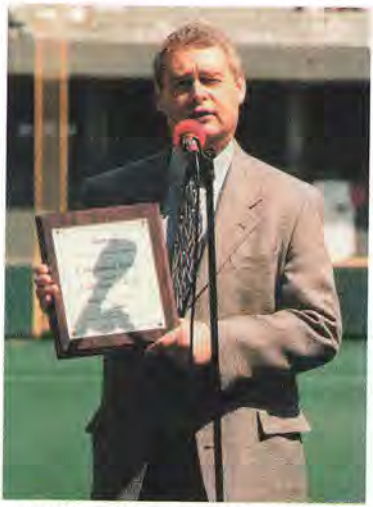
John Allen was named Chief Operating Officer on October 1, 1999, following the purchase of a majority of the Reds' shares by a group of limited partners led by Carl H. Lindner.

On June 12, 1996, Mr. Allen was named "interim" Managing Executive when Reds' President and CEO Marge Schott relinquished her day-to-day control of the team, per an agreement with Major League Baseball. He was named Managing Executive on August 9, 1996.

Mr. Allen, who originally joined the organization in May 1995 as controller, has received widespread praise for his innovations in running the club. Baseball fans, baseball executives and the Greater Cincinnati community have responded warmly to his fan-friendly outreach and to the renewed sense of fun, excitement and history at Cinergy Field.

In January 1997, John spearheaded an effort to create Redsfest, a fan festival at the Convention Center downtown that has given fans in the Cincinnati community an opportunity to enjoy close interaction with the Reds' organization. Redsfest quickly became a Cincinnati winter tradition. More than 40,000 fans have enjoyed the event, which includes autograph and photograph opportunities with former and present Reds' players, question and answer panels, clinics and the chance to view Reds' memorabilia.

Mr. Allen has "put the focus back onto the playing field" rather than on the Reds' front office or on the business side of baseball. His agenda has included fan-friendly activities such as increased player contact for fans, the annual caravan, season-ticket holder luncheons, decoration of the stadium, ticket discounts, "Stand By Your Red" and "Run the Bases." Each of the past four seasons has included a "Celebration of Diversity Day" to welcome and include fans of all backgrounds.



Under Mr. Allen's tutelage, special efforts have been made to recognize the organization's rich history. Replicas of the retired jerseys of Fred Hutchinson and Johnny Bench were displayed for the first time in a special ceremony on September 1, 1996. During the 1998 season, the organization retired the jerseys of Joe Morgan, Frank Robinson, and Ted Kluszewski. The Reds will also retire the jersey of Tony Perez during the 2000 season.

John began his baseball career in 1990 as an intern with the Columbus Clippers, the Class AAA minor league affiliate of the New York Yankees, and subsequently named the club's director of business operations. While with the Clippers, he performed a wide variety of duties in addition to overseeing business operations. While in Columbus, he also earned a master's degree in Sport Management at The Ohio State University.

John was born in Norton, KS and graduated from Norton Community High School, where he participated in baseball, football, basketball and track. He served in Vietnam, where he was wounded in action and decorated for his efforts. Following active duty, he attended college on the G.I. Bill and in 1974 earned his undergraduate degree at Kansas State University. John currently serves on the Finance Advisory Board at Kansas State.

Before he entered the baseball industry, Mr. Allen worked with the accounting firm of Arthur Andersen in Kansas City, MO, and also with GRA, Inc. of Merriam, KS, where he was a partner and senior vice president.

Mr. Allen has been honored with the Certificate of Friendship from the Cincinnati Human Relations Commission and the Community Service Award from the Talbert House. He also has been honored by Cincinnati Magazine in its annual "Best of Cincinnati" issue. In 2000, John will serve as Honorary Game Chairman for the Kid Glove Game.

John and his wife, Anna, reside in Covington, KY. John has a son, Christopher, and a daughter, Sarah. He is a lifetime member of the American Legion and Disabled American Veterans organizations.

GENERAL MANAGER

In 1999 Jim Bowden completed his seventh season as General Manager of the Reds and guided the club to a 96-67 record, its highest victory total since 1976. Last year's club produced the National League's Manager of the Year (Jack McKeon), Rookie of the Year (Scott Williamson), Gold Glove second baseman (Pokey Reese), Silver Slugger Award winner (Barry Larkin) and Hutch Award winner (Sean Casey) in addition to single-season franchise records for run scored, doubles, extra-base hits, total bases and slugging percentage.

Prior to the 2000 season, on February 10, he pulled off one of the biggest trades in baseball history by acquiring 10-time All-Star and Player of the Decade Ken Griffey Jr., a native of Cincinnati.

Following the '99 campaign, Mr. Bowden was named Executive of the Year by Baseball America, the Boston chapter of the prestigious Baseball Writers Association of America and the Touchdown Club of Columbus. He also was named 1999 National League Executive of the Year by national baseball writer Jon Heyman of Newsday and 1999 Major League Executive of the Year by Mike Mittleman of Stats, Inc. USA Today Baseball Weekly's Bob Nightengale wrote, "Jim Bowden is the best wheeler-dealer in the business."

In addition to those accolades, following the '99 season Mr. Bowden was inducted into the Rollins College Sports Hall of Fame and received the school's 17th Athletic Achievement Award. He graduated from Rollins in 1983 with a bachelor's degree in business administration/communication and 10 years later received the Young Alumnus Special Achievement Award.

Considered one of the brightest and innovative minds in the game of baseball today, Mr. Bowden signed a four-year contract extension on October 8, 1998 that will keep him in Cincinnati through the year 2003.

On October 16, 1992, he made baseball history when, at the age of 31, he became the youngest person ever named to a Major League Baseball general manager's position. Among big league general managers since then, Mr. Bowden's 554 victories rank second only to the 668 wins of Atlanta's John Schuerholz. He helped guide the Reds to a pair of National League Central Division titles (1994, 1995), and in 1995 at the age of 34 he became the youngest GM in baseball history to guide his club into the League Championship Series. Following that '95 campaign, a season in which he made several successful roster moves that propelled the Reds into post-season play, Jim was selected by USA Today baseball beat writer Rod Beaton as the National League's Executive of the Year.

Mr. Bowden always has been known to pull the trigger on deals, and the off-season prior to 2000 was no exception. Facing financial constraints and the eventual loss of power hitter Greg Vaughn, who in '99 led the club with 45 HR and 118 RBI, Jim was able to acquire four-time All-Star Dante Bichette and cash from the Colorado Rockies in exchange for middle reliever Stan Belinda and reserve outfielder Jeffrey Hammonds.

He helped build the successful '99 team with similiar moves, by consummating blockbuster trades with Atlanta, San Diego and the Chicago White Sox that brought to Cincinnati such high-profile players as former 20-game winner Denny Neagle, Vaughn and speedy outfielders Mike Cameron and Michael Tucker. Prior to the '99 season, Mr. Bowden also added depth to the Reds' bench by acquiring lifetime

.300-hitter Hal Morris, Mark Lewis, and one of baseball's best pinch-hitters, Mark Sweeney.

The Reds won back-to-back National League Central division titles in 1994 and 1995 in large part to the timely starting pitching Jim acquired in David Wells, John Smiley, Pete Schourek, Mark Portugal and Dave Burba. The 1999 Reds were based on the same principle, as Jim blended together a promising staff of solid veterans and young talent through trades, free agency and the draft.

In 1999, veteran Pete Harnisch tied his career high with 16 victories and led the club in that category for the second straight season, Neagle went 6-0 in his last 7 starts of the season, while Juan Guzman, acquired at the trading deadline from Baltimore, went 6-3 in 12 starts as the Reds, Astros and Mets battled for a playoff berth. All-Star Scott Williamson was named NL Rookie of the Year after posting 19 saves while establishing a club rookie record for relief wins with 12. Ten-time All-Star Barry Larkin won his ninth Silver Slugger Award, Vaughn became the only Reds player in history with 40 HR, 100 RBI and 15 stolen bases, and Eddie Taubensee put together one of the finest offensive seasons ever by a Reds' catcher. Trade acquisition Sean Casey and farm products Aaron Boone and Gold Glover Pokey Reese gave Cincinnati one of the best young infields in baseball.

Jim has made the most of the club's "small market" stature over the years, including the 1999 season when the Reds produced the best record in the Major Leagues for teams with payrolls under $55 million.

Jim has accomplished this by remaining consistent with the philosophy of adding tremendous young talent through trades and the draft. Since 1997, Jim has acquired productive young players such as Casey, Dmitri Young, Danny Graves, Gabe White, Dennys Reyes, Tucker, Jeffrey Hammonds and Cameron while drafting the talented Brett Tomko, Reese, Boone and Williamson.

Jim has also been instrumental in changing the club's philosophy by emphasizing investment in areas of player development and global scouting for the organization's future success.

Known for his aggressive nature when seeking talent, Jim has a tremendous track record when taking chances. In 1996 and 1997, the Reds produced the NL saves leaders and Rolaids Relief Man points winners in Jeff Brantley (1996) and Jeff Shaw (1997). In both instances, the players were signed without having any prior closing experience.

In 1994, Jim gambled and signed OF Ron Gant after the slugger had been released by the Atlanta Braves when he broke his leg in an off-season motorcycle accident. Gant went on to hit .276 with 29 HR and 88 RBI in 1995 while earning NL Comeback Player of the Year honors. Jim also acquired LHP Pete Schourek as a waiver claim that season. Schourek would go on to finish second in the 1995 NL Cy Young Award voting behind Atlanta's Greg Maddux. Jim rolled the dice again in 1996, coaxing OF Eric Davis out of retirement. Davis also earned the NL Comeback Player of the Year Award after hitting .287 with 26 HR and 83 RBI. Jim found another "comebacker" in 1998, when he signed Harnisch, who has won 30 games the last 2 seasons.

One of the very best in the game at adding quality veteran performers at the right time, Jim has always produced when the club has needed it the most. In the heat of the pennant race in 1995, Jim made two blockbuster deals two days apart that brought to the Reds some much-needed starting pitching. David Wells was acquired from the Tigers, and pitchers Dave Burba and Mark Portugal from the Giants. The threesome combined to win 18 games as the Reds pulled away from the Houston Astros.

Jim began his career in 1984 with the Pirates and spent 1985-88 as the club's assistant director of player development and scouting. In 1989, he moved to the Yankees as assistant to the senior vice president for baseball operations. In 1990 he joined the Reds as an administrative assistant for both scouting and player development, and in August 1991 he was promoted to director of player development. After he was named GM in 1992, he also assumed the duties of president and CEO during Mrs. Schott's absence from the club.

A Weston, MA and Boothbay Harbor, ME native, Mr. Bowden was born May 18, 1961. He is a 1979 graduate of Weston (MA) High School.

Jim and his wife, Amy, reside in Anderson Township, with sons J.B. (3/10/87), Tyler (7/7/91), Chad (2/17/94) and identical twins Trey and Chase (10/20/98). They also have two dogs; a golden retriever named Brianna Faith and a labrador retriever named Prime Time.

1999 SEASON: In 1999 celebrated the 50th anniversary of his first year in professional baseball by leading the Reds to a 96-67 record, a 19-win improvement over the previous season, and to a 1-game regular-season playoff. Became the first Reds skipper ever to receive the National League Manager of the Year Award in voting of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Overwhelmingly was named Major League Manager of the Year by a panel of The Associated Press sportswriters and broadcasters, joining Fred Hutchinson (1961) and Sparky Anderson (1972, 1975) as the only Reds to win the AP honor. Finished second to Atlanta's Bobby Cox in The Sporting News' NL Manager of the Year Award voting of his peers. Also received both the Manager of the Year Award and Distinguished Service to Baseball Award from the New Jersey Sportswriters Association. Was inducted into both the New Jersey Sportswriters Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame. His 96 victories were a single-season personal best and T8th-highest total in franchise history. At 96-67 the Reds finished 19 victories better than the 1998 club (77-85). Since Hutchinson's 1961 Reds (93-61) finished a club-record 26 wins better than his 1960 squad (67-87), the best turnaround in franchise history, only 3 times have Reds teams improved by at least 19 games from one season to the next (19w in 1985, 19w in 1995, 19w in 1999). Is the 45th manager of the Reds this century and the third-oldest manager in baseball history behind Connie Mack (88 years old) and Casey Stengel (75). Currently is the oldest manager or head coach in MLB, NFL, NBA or NHL. On 10/28 agreed to a 1-year contract through the 2000 season.

PREVIOUS MANAGERIAL CAREER: Is 685-656 (.511) in 11 seasons as a manager for KC, Oak, SD and Cin, including 206-182 (.531) in 3 seasons with the Reds. Replaced Ray Knight as Reds field manager on 7/25/97, when the club was 43-56 and in fourth place, 9.5 games behind the first-place Astros. With McKeon on the bench, the Reds went 33-30 the rest of the '97 season, the best record in the NL Central Division during that span. Prior to the 1997 season had managed in the major leagues for 8 years (479-474, .503) and in the minor leagues for 17 years (1146-1123, .505). With the San Diego Padres from 1988-90 compiled the best career winning percentage of any skipper in that team's history (.541). Although he had not managed for 9 years when he was summoned to the dugout, McKeon immediately helped engineer a dramatic turnaround in the Padres' fortunes. The ballclub went 67-48 and rose from last place to third place after he became manager. Also managed the Oakland Athletics in 1977 & 1978, going 71-105 in parts of 2 seasons. Began the 1977 season as manager but was replaced by Bobby Winkles on 6/10. Began the next year as a coach but was named manager again on 5/23/78. Under team owner Charles O. Finley, McKeon also served as Oakland's assistant general manager, scouting director and coach. His first Major League managerial job came with the Kansas City Royals (1973-75). Although the Royals were still a new franchise, only in their fifth year of existence, McKeon's Royals rolled to second place during his initial year (88-74). Overall, he went 215-205 in more than 2 seasons KC.

FRONT OFFICE CAREER: Prior to 7/25/97, when he replaced Knight as manager, McKeon was the Reds' senior advisor for player personnel and consulted with general manager Jim Bowden on trades, player evaluations and special assignments. He joined the organization in January 1993. Served as general manager of the San Diego Padres from 1980-90, when he earned the nickname "Trader Jack" for his penchant for mutiplayer deals. In 1984 he led the Padres to their first World Series berth. Before joining the Padres he worked for the Oakland Athletics as assistant general manager, scouting director, manager, scout and coach. Prior to his employment with the A's spent 3 seasons as a scout for the Minnesota Twins.

PLAYING CAREER: In 1949 was signed by the Pirates organization as a catcher. In 1951 at Burlington he caught 139 of his club's 140 games. Had his best offensive season in 1958, when he hit .263 for Missoula of the Pioneer League. In 1951, as a 21-year-old player/manager, he led his Sampson (NY) Air Force Base team to the Air Force championship.

MINOR LEAGUE MANAGER: Went 1146-1123 (.505) in 17 seasons. Was named Manager of the Year 4 times: 1958 at Missoula of the Pioneer League, 1961 at Wilson of the Carolina League and back-to-back awards in the American Association, winning with Omaha in both 1969 and '70.

PERSONAL: John Aloysius McKeon...married Carol Isley on October 29, 1954...they have four children, daughters Kristi (7/27/60) and Kori (7/21/64) and sons Kelly (8/31/61) and Kasey (7/7/67)...Kasey, who while working for Cleveland signed Sean Casey, is a Major League scout and national cross checker for Reds...son-in-law Greg Booker pitched 9 seasons in the Major Leagues and is now a San Diego Padres coach...attended The College of the Holy Cross and Seton Hall University before graduating from Elon College in North Carolina with a bachelor of science degree in physical education...was a starter on the New Jersey high school state champion basketball squad at St. Mary's in South Amboy, NJ.

club for the second consecutive season and tied his career high...is 30-17 the last 2 seasons, the highest victory total by a Reds pitcher in consecutive seasons since RHP Jose Rijo went 30-16 from 1991-92...also led the club in starts, shutouts and innings pitched while tying for the club lead in complete games...opponents hit .252, 10th-best mark in the National League...ranked 11th in the NL with a 3.68 ERA...was the starter and winner in the Reds' last 2 victories of the season...on 9/28 at Hou allowed just 4 hits and 1 run in 8 innings in a 4-1 victory that gave Cin a 1.0-game lead over the Astros in the NL Central standings and a 2.5-game lead over the Mets in the race for the Wild Card playoff spot...following 3 consecutive Reds losses, came back and threw 5.2 scoreless innings in a 7-1 victory at Mil on the last day of the season to force a 1-game playoff with the Mets...the start of that 7-1 win at Mil was delayed 5 hours, 47 minutes by rain...was the scheduled Opening Day starter but was hampered late in spring training by back spasms and was replaced by Brett Tomko...would have been the fourth Opening Day start of his career (1992 & 1994 for Hou, 1997 for NYM)...was the first pitcher in the Major Leagues to throw a pair of complete-game shutouts, including a 6-hitter in a 3-0 victory on 4/9 at StL in his first appearance of the season, in the Reds' fourth game, and a 3-hitter in the 3-0 victory at SD on 5/22 in which he hit the first home run of his career (off Heath Murray, 371 feet, 341st career AB)...the 4/9 shutout vs the Cardinals was the first complete season...after an extra days' rest returned on 6/12 in the 4-3 loss vs Cle, but then on 6/17 began a career-high 8-game winning streak (6/17-8/19, 2.90era)...followed that winning streak by going 1-4, 7.11 in 6 starts from 8/24-9/19 before missing a scheduled start on 9/25...didn't pitch for 8 days following his 8-5 loss at Pit on 9/19 in which he threw 40 pitches in the first inning and hit Ed Sprague with a pitch, breaking a bone in Sprague's left hand...returned on 9/28 for his dramatic final 2 starts...with that victory on 9/28 at Hou avoided his first 3-game losing streak since he suffered 5 straight losses to end the 1996 season and avoided losing 3 straight starts for the first time since a 4-start losing streak from 6/20-7/6, 1995...improved his season record over Hou to 4-0, 2.52 in 4 starts...his 8-game winning streak was the longest by a Reds pitcher since Tom Browning won 8 straight in 1989 and the longest by a Reds righthander since Jose Rijo won 8 straight in 1988...no Reds pitcher has won more than 8 consecutive games since Browning and John Franco had 11-game winning streaks in 1985 and no righthander has done it since Tom Seaver's 11-game winning streak in 1979...Reds went 22-11 in his 33 starts and scored 185 runs in those starts (5.6 r/g)...as a hitter led Reds pitchers with 4 doubles, 1 HR, 5 RBI and 6 runs scored...with 8 sac bunts tied Brett Tomko for the overall team lead and with 10 hits tied Tomko for the lead among pitchers...his 4 doubles were the most by a Reds pitcher since Jose Rijo hit 4 in 1994, while no Reds pitchers has victory on 8/19 at Pit allowed 1 hit in 8.0 scoreless innings, tied his career high with 12 strikeouts and extended his career-high winning streak to 8 games...for the 12th time in his career struck out at least 10 batters...allowed only Mike Benjamin's single leading off the seventh...Scott Williamson threw a hitless ninth inning and Sean Casey provided the game's only run with a solo HR in the eighth off Kris Benson, who threw his second career complete game and tied his career high with 8 strikeouts...earned his 100th career win on 9/4 at Phi, a 22-3 victory in which Reds batters established the National League record for home runs with 9...along with Sean Casey, Barry Larkin and Eddie Taubensee was featured on the cover of TV Guide's 10/3 issue ...PRO CAREER: 1998: In 1999 Season: In the best season of his Major League career went 11-4, 3.50 with 2 complete games and 1 shutout in 22g and 21 starts...established career highs in every major statistical category...tied with Pete Harnisch for the club lead with 2 CG...tied for the National League lead with 6 double plays by a pitcher...ranked second in the NL with a .733 winning percentage...did not pitch in August because of a stint on the disabled list with a strained right triceps muscle (7/26-8/31), but when he returned for the September pennant race became a fixture in the rotation...came off the DL on 9/1 and went 4-2, 3.12 with 1 shutout in 6 starts during September, including 4-0, 2.57 in 4 starts from 9/8-9/24 as the Reds pulled to within 2.5 games of NL Central leader Hou and to within 1.0 game of Wild Card leader NY...lost his last 2 starts, his only losing streak of the season: the 4-1 loss on 9/29 at Hou, in which the Astros scored 3 unearned runs, snapped his career-high 4-start winning streak, his second career-high 4-game winning streak of the season and the club's 6-game winning streak; started the Reds' 1-game playoff vs the Mets and suffered the 5-0 loss (2.2ip, 3h, 3er, 3bb, 1k) in which Edgardo Alfonzo hit a 2-run HR in the first inning and Al Leiter threw a 2-hitter...prior to Alfonzo's homer in the playoff had allowed just 2 HR in his previous 42.2 IP...began the season at Indy, where he went 0-1, 3.28 in 4 starts before he was recalled on 5/3...took the roster spot of RHP Brett Tomko, who was optioned to Indy...that night vs Ari made his '99 debut and received no decision in the 4-3 victory...won his second start, a 6-2 victory on 5/15 vs SD that snapped Cin's 10-game losing streak to the Padres, then on 5/19 at Col earned the 24-12 victory in his only relief appearance of the season and the longest relief outing of his career (3.1ip)...began the season 4-0 and 7-1 before he was sidelined with the strained triceps muscle...his 5-2 loss vs Mets on 6/16 snapped his first career-high 4-game winning streak as he fell 1 victory shy in his bid to become the first Reds pitcher to begin a season 5-0 since John Smiley, Xavier Hernandez and Mike Jackson each began the '95 season with 5-0 records...his 7-1 start was the best by a Reds pitcher since 1995, when Smiley began 11-1 and Hernandez started out 7-1...was the best start by a RH starter since Jack Armstrong began the 1990 season 8-1...went 3-0, 1.95 in his last 6 starts before he went on the DL on 7/26...made a pair of rehab starts at Indy (0-1, 5.73) before he returned to the rotation on 9/3...twice was the victim of blown saves...Reds went 14-7 in his 21 starts, including 7-3 in his last 10 starts, and scored 101 runs in those 21 starts (4.8 r/g)...threw his 2 complete games on 6/5 at KC and 9/18 at Pit...on 6/5 at KC, started Game 1 of the doubleheader and threw his third career complete game in the 9-4 victory (9h, 4er, 2bb, 8k, 2hr)...originally was scheduled to start on 6/4, but that game was postponed by a power failure and spent the 1-hour, 50-minute delay signing autographs while sitting on top of the dugout...on 9/18 at Pit, in his first career appearance against his former team, threw his fourth career complete game and third career shutout in the 3-0 win (6h, 1bb, 8k)...did not allow a runner to reach third base...in the 3-2 win on 5/25 vs LA tied his career high with 9 strikeouts and outdueled Kevin Brown, who threw a complete game and recorded a career-high 12 strikeouts...Brown entered the game 6-0 lifetime vs Cin...in the 8-6 loss vs Cle on 6/11 allowed all 5 runs on a career-high 3 HR, including Kenny Lofton's 15th career leadoff HR, a 2-run HR to Dwight Gooden and a 2-run HR to Manny Ramirez...on 6/26 at Hou, started and allowed just 1 hit in 7.0 IP to earn the 8-1 victory...combined with Stan Belinda (1ip) and Gabe White (1ip, 1h) on a 2-hitter and allowed only Carl Everett's infield single in the first inning...on 7/25 at SF left the game with tightness in the back of his right shoulder and went on the DL 6 days later...on 9/3 at Phi, in his first appearance since coming off the DL, threw 1.2 innings in his shortest start since he threw a career-low 0.2 IP on 9/4/95 for Pit at Fla ...PRO CAREER: 1998: Didn't join the Reds until 6/19 but still established career highs in games, starts, innings and strikeouts...tied his career high in wins...began the season at Indianapolis and went 6-1, 3.84 in 13 starts before the Reds purchased his contract on 6/19...when promoted led the International League with 102 strikeouts (84.1ip)...made his first 2 apps for Cin in relief (4ip, 0r) and his last 16 apps in the starting rotation...went 1-2, 6.12 in his first 6 starts (through 7/29)...beginning 8/4 went 5-3, 2.73 in his last 10 starts of the season, including 3-1, 2.62 in 5 starts in August and 2-2, 2.86 in 5 starts in September...finished the season by going 5-2, 2.61 in his last 8 starts, including a 3-game winning streak from 8/15-8/27 that tied his career high (7/12-7/22, 1995 for Pit)...Reds went 9-7 in his 16 starts with 74 runs scored in those starts (4.6 r/g)...in the 4-0 victory on 8/22 at Mtl, threw a 3-hitter for his second career shutout (1bb, 4k)...was the starting pitcher in the 2-0 loss on 7/20 at LA (Dreifort/Shaw 1-hitter) and the 1-0 loss on 9/7 at Hou (RJohnson 6-hitter)...on 6/19 was promoted from Indianapolis and that night at Hou threw 2.0 hitless innings in his first Major League appearance since 8/11/96 (for Pit vs SD) and his first ML relief appearance since 7/19/96 (for Pit vs behind only Joe Moeller (19 years, 2 months in 1962), Dick Calmus (19 years, 7 months in 1963) and Mike Kekich (20 years, 2 months in 1965)...by making that 7/13 start he snapped the Dodgers' Major 1999 Season Notes

THE BIG ROAD MACHINE: Became only the third team in franchise history to win 50 games on the road in a season, joining the 1976 World Series winners (53-28) and the 1972 National League champions (53-25)...suffered only 3 losing road trips, from 4/27-5/2 (2-4 at Phi & Atl), 8/23-8/29 (2-5 at Atl & Mtl) and 9/29-10/3 (2-3 at Hou & Mil)...had the best road record in the Major Leagues at 51-30 (.630)...their road record was better than the home record of every team in the majors except the Braves (56-25 at home, .691), Diamondbacks (52-29, .671), A's (52-29, .642) and Rangers (51-30, .630)...prior to this season, the 1976 Yankees were the 10th and last team to post a better road record than any other team's home record...that season NYY went 52-27 on the road (.658), while the Phillies had the majors' best home record at 53-28 (.654)...the Reds have never accomplished it...hit a club-record 112 HR on the road...over 2 road trips from 5/28-6/27, in one of the best road stretches in their history, the Reds went 16-3 in a stretch that included a pair of season-high 8-game road winning streaks...that stretch included a 13-day, 9-3 road trip to Fla (2-1), NY (3-0), KC (3-0) and Min (1-2) in addition to a 7-0 road trip at Ari (3-0) and Hou (4-0)....the first was the club's longest road trip since June 1989 (14d, 13g) and their most successful trip since September 1981 (11-2)...the trip included their first series sweep at Shea Stadium since July 1986, their first doubleheader sweep since July 1996 and a 3-game sweep in their first visit to Kansas City since 1889...on that road trip, hit .305 with 14 HR, 73 runs scored (6.1 r/g) and a 3.48 ERA...7 times in those 12 games recorded at least 10 hits and came from behind in 6 of those 9 victories...the second trip included their second series sweep at Bank One Ballpark in 2 trips there and their first sweep at the Astrodome since June 1995...began that road trip 6.0 games behind division-leading Hou and returned in first place, .001 percentage point ahead of the Astros...was their most successful trip since they went 8-0 on a trip to Phi and NY in September 1964...at the time of that trip, both Ari and Hou were in first place, the D'Backs had the best home record in baseball and Cin had lost 7 consecutive games at the Astrodome...Reds beat the Astros on a 1-hitter and a 2-hitter...on that road trip hit .318 with 9 HR, 50 runs scored (7.1 r/g) and a 3.80 ERA...it was on the 7-0 road trip to Ari and Hou that Dayton Daily News veteran beat reporter Hal McCoy nicknamed the club "The Big Road Machine".

RECORD-SETTING SEASON: The Reds established club single-season records with 112 road HR (98hr, 1977, 1987), 312 doubles (298, 1998), 865 runs scored (857, 1976), 558 extra-base hits (512, 1965), 820 RBI (802, 1976), 2549 total bases (2483, 1965), 190 HR allowed (179, 1953, 1957), .451 slugging percentage (.441, 1956) and 38 wins vs the Central Division (35, 1995)...also established the franchise record for homers in a month with 51 HR in September (50hr, August 1956)...for the first time in club history had 10 players with at least 10 HR...their 209 HR is the second-highest total in club history (221hr, 1956)...on 9/4 at Phi, established both the National League single-game record for HR in a game (9) and the Major League single-game record for number of players with at least 1 HR (8, Boone, Lewis, Johnson, Vaughn, Young, Taubensee 2, Reese, Hammonds)...on 8/21 vs Mtl tied the Major League single-game record with 2 grand slams (Taubensee, Boone), accomplished twice previously by Cin (7/29/55 vs Pit, Thurman & Burgess; 4/24/93 vs Cubs Sabo & Oliver)...Greg Vaughn tied the club record for HR in a month with 14 in September (FRobinson, 14hr, August 1962)...Jeffrey Hammonds (5/19 at Col), and Vaughn (9/7g2 at Cubs) tied the club record with 3 HR in a game...RHP Scott Williamson established franchise rookie records with 12 wins in relief and 7 losses in relief (previous, WGranger, 9-6, 1969)...on 5/27 vs LA, Williamson threw 2.0 perfect innings by striking out all 6 batters, tying a National League record for most consecutive strikeouts in a game by a relief pitcher...he shares that record with former Reds Don Gullett, Joe Price, Randy Myers and Rob Dibble...on 6/8 at Min, Reds' pitchers threw a club-record 5 wild pitches...in that game, Williamson tied the franchise record by throwing 3 wild pitches in an inning (8th)...in an 11-3 loss vs NYM on 6/15, the Mets tied a club record with 6 HR and Brett Tomko tied a Reds' franchise record by allowing 5 HR, the first Reds' pitcher to do so since Bill Gullickson on 6/25/87 at SF.

RHP Scott Sullivan led the NL in innings pitched in 1999.

BRILLIANT BULLPEN: Reds' relievers led the Major Leagues with a 3.36 ERA, a .225 opponents' batting average and 143 Rolaids Relief Man Award team points...tied the Braves for the big league lead with 33 victories...RHP Scott Sullivan (113.2ip, 3.01era), RHP Danny Graves (111ip, 3.08era) and rookie RHP Scott Williamson (93.1ip, 2.41era), finished first, second and T5th, respectively, among all NL relievers in innings pitched...fell 6.2 innings short by Williamson of becoming the trio in franchise history to throw 100 innings in relief in the same season...the 1992 Astros were the last Major League team to do it (Doug Jones 111.2ip, Joe Boever 111.1ip, Xavier Hernandez 111ip)...Reds' relievers almost accomplished the feat in 1978, when Manny Sarmiento (104.1ip) and Doug Bair (100.1ip) each threw 100 innings while Pedro Borbon fell short with 99.1 innings...in Sullivan and Graves, the Reds had a pair of 100-inning relievers for the first time since 1987 (Rob Murphy 100.2ip, Frank Williams 105.2ip)...had 3 pitchers with at least 90 innings in relief for the first time since 1997 (Stan Belinda 99.1ip, Sullivan 97.1ip, Jeff Shaw 94.2ip)...Sullivan is the first reliever to lead the NL in innings pitched in consecutive seasons since Pit's Kent Tekulve in 1978 (135.1ip) and 1979 (134.1ip) and the first Reds' reliever with consecutive 100-inning seasons since RHP Pedro Borbon reached that plateau 6 straight years from 1972-77...the Reds went 77-3 when leading after 8 innings...suffered those 3 losses on 7/7 at StL, when Braggs' 2-run HR in the ninth off Williamson gave the Cardinals a 2-1 win; on 7/22 in a 6-5 loss vs StL, when in the ninth inning Graves allowed a solo HR to McGwire and a 2-run HR to Tatis; and on 9/16 in a 5-4 loss vs Cubs, when Sosa's 2-run double off Graves and Grace's RBI-double off White highlighted Chi's 3-run ninth.

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR: RHP Scott Williamson: Became the 7th Reds' player to be named Rookie of the Year by the BBWAA...was the only player named on all 32 ballots ...among all National League relievers ranked 7th with a 2.41 ERA and T5th with 93.1 IP...led all NL rookies in victories (12), saves (19), relief ERA, winning percentage (.632, 12-7), relief strikeouts (107) and relief IP...established a franchise record for relief wins by a rookie (12), held by Wayne Granger since 1969...finished second on the club in both wins and saves, falling short in his bid to become the first Reds' pitcher to lead the club outright in both categories since LHP Lee Grissom in 1937 (12w, 6sv) and the first righthander to do it since Paul Derringer in 1934 (15w, 4sv)...in 24 apps from 5/3-7/4 posted a 0.64 ERA (42.1ip, 3er, 18h), including a 0.00 ERA in May (11g, 18.1ip, 0r)...from 4/30-6/11 threw 23.2 consecutive scoreless innings, the longest scoreless streak in the NL this season...from 6/20-7/1 retired 21 consecutive batters...on 5/27 vs LA threw 2.0 perfect innings by striking out all 6 batters, tying a National League record for most consecutive strikeouts in a game by a relief pitcher, a record shared by former Reds Don Gullett, Joe Price, Randy Myers and Rob Dibble...was named to the All-Star Game to replace the injured Robb Nen, but did not pitch at Fenway Park...at 23 years, 146 days old was the youngest Reds' player to make the All-Star team since RHP Mike LaCoss in 1979 (23.048)...was the 14th rookie pitcher selected to the All-Star team, the first since Tyler Green, Hideo Nomo and Carlos Perez were honored in 1995...was the second Reds' rookie All-Star pitcher (Blackwell 1946) and the fifth Reds' rookie All-Star (Blackwell, FRobinson 1946, Bench 1968, Sabo 1988).

MANAGER OF THE YEAR: In 1999 Jack McKeon celebrated the 50th anniversary of his first year in professional baseball by leading the Reds to a 96-67 record, a 19-win improvement over the previous season, and to a 1-game regular-season playoff. Became the first Reds' skipper ever to receive the National League Manager of the Year Award in voting of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Overwhelmingly was named Major League Manager of the Year by a panel of The Associated Press sportswriters and broadcasters, joining Fred Hutchinson (1961) and Sparky Anderson (1972, 1975) as the only Reds to win the AP honor. Finished second to Atlanta's Bobby Cox in The Sporting News' NL Manager of the Year Award voting of his peers. Also received both the Manager of the Year Award and Distinguished Service to Baseball Award from the New Jersey Sportswriters Association. Was inducted into both the New Jersey Sportswriters Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame. His 96 victories were a single-season personal best and T8th-highest total in franchise history. At 96-67 the Reds finished 19 victories better than the 1998 club (77-85). Since Hutchinson's 1961 Reds (93-61) finished a club-record 26 wins better than his 1960 squad (67-87), the best turnaround in franchise history, only 3 times have Reds teams improved by at least 19 games from one season to the next (19w in 1985, 19w in 1995, 19w in 1999). Is the 45th manager of the Reds this century and the third-oldest manager in baseball history behind Connie Mack (88 years old) and Casey Stengel (75). Currently is the oldest manager or head coach in MLB, NFL, NBA or NHL. On 10/28 agreed to a 1-year contract through the 2000 season.

EXECUTIVE OF THE YEAR: Following the '99 campaign Jim Bowden was named Executive of the Year by Baseball America, the Boston chapter of the prestigious Baseball Writers Association of America and the Touchdown Club of Columbus. He also was named 1999 National League Executive of the Year by national baseball writer Jon Heyman of Newsday and 1999 Major League Executive of the Year by Mike Mittleman of Stats, Inc. USA Today Baseball Weekly's Bob Nightengale wrote, "Jim Bowden is the best wheeler-dealer in the business."

The previous modern-day franchise record of 48 total bases was set on 6/1/57 vs Cubs, but the 1893 Red Stockings also had 55 total bases in a game. The Major League record for total bases by a team in a game is 60 (Boston vs St. Louis, 6/8/50).

1999 "Red Seat" Homer Club

Fans at Cinergy Field witnessed five Red Seat homers in 1999, the most ever in one season.

Sammy Sosa became the first Cub ever to hit the Red Seats, when he hit the 26th Red Seater on May 8 off Gabe White. The shot traveled 453 feet.

Greg Vaughn ripped two Red Seat homers in 1999, both coming on the same homestand. Vaughn victimized Cleveland's Charles Nagy on June 12, then went Red against Milwaukee's Rafael Roque on June 18. Vaughn is one of only two players with three career Red Seat homers at Cinergy Field.

Mark McGwire hit his 60th homer of the season into the Red Seats off Scott Sullivan on September 26. The shot traveled an estimated 407 feet.

Eddie Taubensee hit the fifth Red-seater of the season on September 26 off St. Louis' Rick Croushore. It was his first-ever Red Seat homer.

Simply Golden

Reds' second baseman Pokey Reese in 1999 became one of baseball's premier second basemen and earned the National League's Rawlings Gold Glove Award...played that position on a regular basis for the first time in his career and followed Bret Boone as the second consecutive Reds' second baseman to win the NL Gold Glove... ranked third among all NL second basemen in fielding percentage (.991)...began the season by making just one error in his first 85 games (4/27 at Phi), including season-high errorless streaks of 67 games (4/28-7/17) and 314 total chances (4/27-7/19)...committed 3 of his 7 errors in a 13-game span from 7/18-8/7, then beginning 8/8 finished the season with just 3 errors in his last 51g...in addition to his tremendous season defensively, he established career bests in runs, hits, doubles, triples, homers and RBI...his 37 doubles were 1 shy of Boone's total in 1998 and 2 more than Hall of Fame second baseman Joe Morgan's career-high 35 doubles in 1973...with 38 steals tied with teammate Mike Cameron for the club lead and ranked T5th in the National League...along with Cameron and Barry Larkin (30sb) was part of the first Reds' trio with 30 steals in a season since 1988 (Sabo 46, Larkin 40, Davis 35).

Reds History

Written by Greg Rhodes, author and baseball historian.

Immediately following the Civil War, baseball enjoyed a nation-wide boom and several amateur teams formed in Cincinnati, including the Cincinnati Base Ball Club (CBBC), the forerunner of today's Cincinnati Reds Baseball Club. The club, originally nicknamed the "Resolutes," was formed on July 23, 1866, but did not play a regular schedule of game until the next summer.

The club hired Harry Wright - a cricket player from New York - to oversee club operations, and Wright proved to be the right choice. Wright developed new strategies and practice regimes that were soon adopted by other clubs. He also was the first to advocate the knicker-style trousers for players, and his choice of team colors created the team nickname. In 1868, the club appeared in short pants with bright red socks, and quickly became known as the "Red Stockings."

Since 1871, baseball teams have always appeared in knicker style uniforms, and the official Cincinnati nickname has always been some variation of "Reds."

But the most radical innovation the CBBC introduced was the all-professional team in 1869. By 1868, Cincinnati had become the top club west of the Alleghenies, but they could not compete with the established clubs on the East Coast. The club needed to find better players and club President Aaron Champion argued for an all-salaried nine. While other clubs, especially in New York and Washington, had paid some players under the table, the Red Stockings were the first to openly declare themselves a professional "nine." (The term "nine" was often used because in fact there were just nine players on a team. Teams occasionally carried one substitute, but he would play only in an emergency.) Harry Wright recruited several excellent players from the the East, including his younger brother, George - the best player in the country. Both George and Harry Wright were ultimately elected to the Hall of Fame.

Harry Wright was captain of the Red Stockings in 1869.

Baseball's first team comprised entirely of paid players was the 1869 Cincinnati Red Stockings

In 1869, the Cincinnati Base Ball Club played the entire season with all of its players under contract. The total salary outlay was approximately $11,000, with the salary of star shortstop George Wright nearly $2,000. Thus began the era of professional baseball - and of professional team sports.

Many baseball people and the sporting press thought the decision to employ players would backfire. They did not think the public would accept the idea of paying men to play a game. But the Red Stockings played at such a high level of skill and conducted themselves in such a "gentlemanly" fashion on and off the field -inspired in part by an abstinence pledge drafted by Champion and supported by the virtuous Wright - that by the end of the '69 season, there was no doubt that the professional game would prevail.

The 1869 Red Stockings made history not only as the first professional club, but they also ran off the longest winning streak in baseball history. Although there was no league yet established, there were some 15 teams in the upper tier of clubs. The Red Stockings defeated all of these teams - many of them twice - and they also walloped a number of lesser clubs. Their final official record was 57-0. (The Red Stockings played and won many more games than this, but these games would be considered exhibition games today. Harry Wright counted only those games against other sanctioned clubs as official. Thus, some record books list a much higher number of games won by the Red Stockings.) The club retained all of its players for 1870, and the club ran its unbeaten streak to 81 games before it was defeated by the Brooklyn Atlantics, 8-7 in 11 innings, before 10,000 spectators in New York.

The team finished the 1870 season with a record of 68-6, but the club lost money and the officers elected to disband the professional nine. Although the first professional league formed in 1871 - the direct result of the success of the Red Stockings - Cincinnati was not part of this new league.

The Cincinnati club, under new management, rejoined the professional ranks in 1876 when it became a charter member of the new eight-team National League. The Reds, along with the Chicago Cubs, are the only charter members of the National League still playing in the NL.

These new Reds had none of the magic of the pioneering Red Stockings. The best finish they could muster in their first five seasons was a second in 1878. During these first years in the National League, the Reds' stars were outfielder Charlie Jones and pitcher Will White, who still holds the Major League record for most starts in one season - 75.

White set the club record for most wins in the same season (1879) with 43. This was the era of underhanded pitching, and White pitched nearly ever game.

Despite the Reds' celebrated past as founders of professional baseball, the National League kicked Cincinnati out after the 1880 season. The reason: the club sold beer and rented its grounds to amateur teams on Sundays, both practices in violation of league rules.

In 1882, after one season on the sidelines, the Reds became one of the founding members of the American Association, the first league to successfully challenge the established National League. Although the Association was not related to the American League (which formed in 1901), the Association is considered a second major league and its records are official in the eyes of Major League Baseball. The Reds featured pitcher White and a young second baseman named Bid McPhee. McPhee led the Reds with his brilliant defensive play and solid offense and holds several 19th century records. He played 18 consecutive seasons with the Reds, a mark later broken by Dave Concepcion.

The Reds won the Association pennant in 1882, and split a brief two-game post-season exhibition series with Chicago winners of the National League. Some consider this the first "World Series," in that it was the first time winners of two leagues met in post-season play.

Prior to the 1884 season, the Reds faced a ballpark crisis. A new and short-lived league, the Player's League, formed in the offseason, and the Cincinnati entry grabbed the lease on the Reds' ballpark, which was located on Spring Grove Avenue, near Spring Grove Cemetery. The Reds scrambled to find a new location, and wound up in an empty brickyard at the corner of Findlay Street and Western Avenue - where they would remain for the next 86 years. In just three months, the club erected a new wooden grandstand, and smoothed out a playing field, except for one spot. There was a steep incline deep in the outfield that seldom came into play and the club left it as it was. In the 20th century, as the ball became more lively and balls soared deep into the outfield, this incline, now called the "terrace," became a well-known Crosley Field landmark.

The Reds rejoined the National League in 1890, and began three decades of frustration. Over the next 29 years, the Reds never finished higher than third. Typically, interest in the Reds peaked on Opening Day. Business manager Frank Bancroft (1892-1920) took full advantage of the tradition of the Reds opening at home, and he promoted the event with parades and bands - a tradition which eventually spawned the Findlay Market parade and Cincinnati's annual Opening Day "holiday."

In the first decade of the 20th century, the Reds featured some outstanding players, including pitcher Noodles Hahn, outfielder Cy Seymour and National League stolen base champion Bob Bescher. But the Reds usually finished in the lower half of the eight-team league and the most interesting developments occurred off the field. Early in the morning of May 28, 1900, the main grandstand of League Park, the Reds' home field at Findlay and Western, burned. The club moved home plate where the right field corner was, built temporary stands and finished the season. The charred ruins of the old stands remained in deep left field until 1902 when a fabulous new iron and concrete grandstand opened (and home plate was moved back to its "correct" location). The grandstand, nicknamed the "Palace of the Fans," was unique; a blend of Roman and Greek styling that had never been used before in a grandstand, and has never been seen since.

The 3,000-seat grandstand featured 19 "fashion boxes" along the front railing that could hold 15 or more well-heeled fans. Beneath the grandstand, at field level, was standing room for 640 more spectators in a rowdy section known as "Rooter's Row." On Opening Day, 1902, some 10,000 spectators crowded into the park and watched the Reds lose to the Chicago Cubs, 6-1.

August "Gary" Hermann was the Reds' president from 1902-1927.

During the 1902 season, owner John T. Brush, an Indianapolis businessman who had owned the Reds for over a decade, sold the club for $150,000 to a local group headed by city official Garry Herrmann. Herrmann's high-profile job as manager of the water works, his magnetic personality and his fondness for a big party, made him a well-known and well-liked character. But the fun-loving Herrmann proved to be a wise and thoughtful steward of the club. His fellow owners voted him to a leadership role in the National League, and he chaired baseball's governing body, the National Commission, for 16 years.

After the 1911 season, Herrmann determined that the Palace of the Fans was too small for the growing interest in baseball. The stands were demolished and all new stands constructed in time for the 1912 opener. This was an era of new ballparks - Forbes Field, Comiskey Park, Ebbets Field and Wrigley Field all opened about the same time. Most were named after the club's owner, but Herrmann declined the honor, opting for "Redland Field," a nickname that had often been applied to the old park. The new brick stands, with the bleachers beyond the right field fence, and a steep terrace in left field, seated 20,000 spectators. When Powel Crosley bought the Reds in 1934, he renamed the park "Crosley Field."

Joe Jackson

The new ballpark did not inspire the Reds; the team finished fourth in 1912 and sunk all the way to last in 1914. But in 1916, Herrmann found a new manager who helped turn the Reds around—Hall of Fame pitcher Christy Mathewson. Mathewson's Reds climbed to third by 1918, but when Mathewson was injured in World War I, the Reds hired Pat Moran. Moran added several new players to a lineup that already included Hall of Famer Edd Roush and Heinie Groh, and the Reds beat the favored Giants to win the 1919 pennant. Their winning percentage was .686 - the equivalent of a 111 wins in a 162 game schedule - the best in club history.

Despite their regular-season success, the Reds were underdogs to the Chicago White Sox, led by "Shoeless" Joe Jackson. But on the eve of the Series, the betting odds suddenly shifted in favor of the Reds. Rumors swirled around the opening game in Cincinnati that a fix was in. But the games were played without obvious incident, or so it seemed.

The Reds beat the White Sox, but a year later eight Chicago players admitted to participating in a plot of fix the Series. Several Reds, including Edd Roush, claimed that they never saw any suspicious behavior; in Roush's words, " One thing that's always overlooked in this whole mess is that we could have beaten them no matter what the circumstances. The 1919 Cincinnati Reds were better!"

The Reds featured two Hall of Famers in their lineup for much of the 1920s, centerfielder Edd Roush and pitcher Eppa Rixey. The Reds finished second in 1922, 1923 and 1926, but could not repeat the success of 1919. Two tragedies marred the 1924 season. Manager Pat Moran died suddenly from liver failure during spring training, and the popular captain and first baseman of the Reds, Jake Daubert, passed away at the close of the season. Daubert had been beaned in May and suffered from insomnia and a weakened condition the rest of the season. He died in October after an emergency appendectomy.

As the 1920s drew to a close, owner Garry Herrmann put the club up for sale. Sidney Weil, a Cincinnati businessman, eventually bought control of the club, but he lost much of his money in the stock market crash of 1929. Strapped by the lack of cash, Weil's Reds soon landed in the cellar.

The 1930s began with the Reds in last place, but concluded with the team winning the National League pennant. Although Weil was unable to invest much in the club, he did make two outstanding trades, bringing future Hall of Famer Ernie Lombardi and pitcher Paul Derringer to the Reds in the early 1930s. Eventually, Weil was forced to sell the club, and broadcasting magnate Powel Crosley bought control in 1934. One of the first moves the entrepreneurial Crosley made was to put his name on the ballpark. "Redland Field" became "Crosley Field" on April 16, 1934.

Crosley joined forces with his energetic and visionary General Manager Larry McPhail to rescue the Reds. In the process they transformed baseball. In 1935, McPhail and Crosley persuaded the commissioner and other owners to allow the Reds to stage seven night games. The Reds had averaged only 2,700 fans a game in 1934, and McPhail thought night baseball would provide desparately-needed revenue. The first game was held on May 24, 1935 with 20,422 fans marveling at the 632 bright lights on eight tall towers. The Reds beat the Phillies, 2-1. The players found the illumination satisfactory, although there were some dark shadows in the outfield. But McPhail's experiment worked - the Reds averaged 18,000 fans in their seven night games, while averaging just 4,600 in their day games.

First night game in ML history.

Bill McKechnie

Two other dramatic events highlighted the 1930s. In January 1937, the worst flood in Cincinnati history inundated Crosley Field when water flowed over the outfield walls. In the most famous stunt in Reds history, pitchers Gene Schott and Lee Grissom, rowed a boat down Western Avenue and over the wall. In 1938, Johnny Vander Meer set a Major League record when he pitched consecutive no-hitters; the second one coming against Brooklyn in the first night game ever played at Ebbets Field.

In 1938, the Reds hired Bill McKechnie to be their new manager. McKechnie's

Reds made a dramatic leap in the standings from eighth to fourth, and led by the pitching of Derringer and Bucky Walters, and the hitting of Lombardi, Frank McCormick and Ival Goodman, the Reds won their first pennant in 20 years in 1939. The clinching game came against the second-place Cardinals on September 28, a thrilling 5-3 victory that ranks among the most dramatic games ever played at Crosley Field. But the Reds collapsed in the Series, swept by the powerful Yankees. Game Four in Cincinnati featured a 10th-inning collision at home plate between the Yanks Charlie Keller and Lombardi. "Lom" was knocked unconscious and lay prone at the plate while Joe DiMaggio scored the go-ahead run. Sportswriters reported on Lombardi's "snooze," an image that haunted the big catcher until his death.

The Reds won 100 games in 1940, then a franchise record, and won the pennant by 12 games over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers. The pennant race was marred by the shocking suicide by backup catcher Willard Hershberger on August 3 in a Boston hotel. Hershberger remains the only player in Major League history to commit suicide during a season.

Willard Hershberger

The World Series matched the pitching and defense of the Reds against the power of the Detroit Tigers. But the Reds chances looked dim when injuries put Lombardi and second baseman Lonnie Frey on the bench. But Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer pitched four complete-game victories, and 40-year-old coach Jimmy Wilson hit .353 subbing for Lombardi. Derringer won the deciding seventh game at Crosley Field, the only time in club history the Reds have won a World Championship at home. Frank McCormick was named National League MVP, following Lombardi (1938) and Walters (1939). The Reds became the first team to have three different players win the MVP in consecutive years.

Fifteen-year-old Joe Nuxhall with Reds' Manager Bill McKechnie.

The 1941 Reds finished third and the club remained competitive until 1944 when the impact of aging players and roster losses due to World War II enlistments took their toll. Many teams scrambled to find promising players, and the Reds even recruited a high-school pitcher, 15-year-old Joe Nuxhall. The Hamilton, Ohio native made baseball history as the youngest player to appear in a big-league game on June 10, 1944. He pitched two-thirds of an inning against St. Louis, giving up five runs on two hits and five walks. It was Nuxhall's only appearance in 1944, but he returned to the Reds in 1952 and wound up with 130 wins, ninth on the Reds all-time list.

There were no Cincinnati pennants won in the 1950s - in fact the team had only two winning seasons - but many who remember Crosley Field consider the '50s to be the ballpark's golden era. By the end of the decade, parking nightmares and the demolition of the surrounding neighborhood had stolen much of Crosley's charm, but the '50s hearken memories of afternoons at the ballpark, the Sun Deck bleachers and the "Goat Run" - the temporary seats installed in front of the right field fence.

The 1950s began with the Reds mired in the second division and their only highlight - the emergence of a young first baseman named Ted Kluszewski. In 1954, "Klu" nearly won the triple crown, leading the league in home runs, RBIs, and finishing fifth in batting average. Klu, who had the biceps of an ex-football player (which he was), began cutting off the sleeves of his jersey. The club eventually adopted the look, introducing a new sleeveless vest top in 1956. The Reds returned to this style in the 1990s.

Ted Kluszewski

The club acknowledged the emergence of the African-American ballplayer with the appearance of Chuck Harmon in 1954, seven years after Jackie Robinson had integrated the Major Leagues. The club slowly added other black players, and in 1956, Frank Robinson became the Reds' first black superstar (and its first Rookie of the Year). Robinson quickly established himself as a future Hall of Famer with his consistent offense - he averaged 32 home runs and 101 RBIs in his 10 seasons with the Reds. He led an offensive explosion in 1956 when the club tied the Major League home run record with 221. The Reds challenged for the NL pennant until the last week of the season, finishing third - their best finish since 1944. Manager Birdie Tebbetts deserved much of the credit for turning the club around, but even Tebbetts could not overcome the weak pitching and by 1959 Fred Hutchinson was the new skipper.

The 1950s are also remembered for the change in the club nickname, the result of the anti-Soviet Union hysteria that equated anything red with the "Reds" of the communist world. The team officially became the "Redlegs" for several seasons, but returned to the traditional name by the end of the decade.

Powel Crosley

The 1960s began with the sad news that long-time owner Powel Crosley had died of a heart attack. New owner Bill DeWitt took over the club in 1961 and along with Manager Fred Hutchinson, made several moves which all proved successful. The result was a surprise pennant, the "Ragamuffin Reds" of 1961. Led by Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and the pitching of Joey Jay and Bob Purkey, the Reds beat out the Los Angeles Dodgers for the pennant, but then lost to the Roger Maris-Mickey Mantle led Yankees, four games to one.

The Reds suffered two significant set-backs in the mid-60s with the loss in 1964 of the 45-year-old Hutchinson to cancer, and the ill-fated Frank Robinson trade in 1965. But the Reds racked up a decade-long winning percentage of .537, the best in club history to that point. The club nearly won the pennant in 1964, being eliminated on the last day of the season, and challenged for the pennant in 1965 and 1969. Much of the success could be attributed to the remarkable string of new talent, led by Rookies of the Year Pete Rose (1963), Tommy Helms (1966) and Johnny Bench (1968). Lee May, Tony Perez and Jim Maloney also debuted in the 1960s. Maloney threw three no-hitters in the 1960s and became the Reds' all-time strikeout leader.

Frank Robinson

In the mid-'60s, debate intensified over a new Reds' ballpark. For the first time in club history, a Reds' ballpark would be built with public funding - a trend rapidly sweeping the sports world. DeWitt favored a suburban location and a baseball-only field, but when the Cincinnati Bengals were awarded a National League Football franchise in 1966, civic leaders wanted a multi-purpose stadium on the riverfront. DeWitt eventually sold the club rather than approve the lease for Riverfront Stadium. His successors, led by Cincinnati Enquirer publisher Frank Dale, signed a 40-year lease and in 1967 hired Bob Howsam to be the new president and general manager. The stage was set for the emergence of the Big Red Machine, and the greatest decade in Reds history.

The new decade opened with a farewell to Crosley Field on June 24, 1970 (and a 5-4 Reds victory) and the dedication of Riverfront Stadium on June 30 (an 8-2 loss to the Braves). Two weeks later, in the first of many memorable moments at Riverfront, Pete Rose bowled over Cleveland catcher Ray Fosse to score the winning run in the 12th inning of the All-Star Game.

Bob Howsam made several key personnel moves in the 1970s to bolster the foundation of Rose, Bench and Perez that DeWitt left him. None was more important than the hiring of the then-unknown George "Sparky" Anderson to manage the team. Anderson led the Reds to a Western Division crown (the National League had been divided into East and West divisions in 1969), and a pennant in 1970, but the Reds lost the World Series to Brooks Robinson and the Baltimore Orioles.

Johnny Bench

Pete Rose

The Reds returned to post-season play in 1972, buoyed in part by the epic trade that brought Joe Morgan, Jack Billingham, Denis Menke and Cesar Geronimo to Cincinnati and the emergence of Dave Concepcion as the starting shortstop. In Game 5 of the NLCS against Pittsburgh at Riverfront, Bench's stunning ninth-inning home run tied the game and the Reds won the pennant moments later when George Foster scored on a wild pitch. The Reds lost a taught seven-game World Series to the Oakland A's.

In 1973, the favored Reds lost to the Mets in a bitter playoff struggle that featured a brawl between Rose and the Mets' Bud Harrelson in Game 3, and a riot at Shea Stadium at the conclusion of Game 5. Although the Reds won 98 games in 1974, they lost the division crown to the Dodgers and many wondered if the Big Red Machine would ever win a World Series.

Perez-Bench-Rose

After a slow start in 1975, Anderson made a series of brilliant line-up moves that created the fabled Big Red Machine starting lineup. He moved Rose from the outfield to third base, allowing George Foster to start in left field. He made Ken Griffey his starting right fielder and moved him to the number two spot in the lineup, pushing Morgan to third. The result was what many have called the greatest starting eight in the history of the game - Rose, Griffey, Morgan, Bench, Perez, Foster, Concepcion and Geronimo. The revamped Reds set a franchise record with 108 wins in 1975. They defeated the Red Sox in one of the best World Series of all time. Game 6 featured the memorable home run by Carlton Fisk in the 12th inning; in Game 7, the Reds rallied from a 3-0 deficit on a two-run homer by Perez and a ninth-inning, game-winning single by Morgan.

Manager Sparky Anderson's Reds defeat the Boston Red Sox in the 1975 World Series - the first of two consecutive championships.

In 1976, the Reds again topped the century mark in wins with 102, and swept through the post-season, winning seven straight games, including a dramatic ninth-inning, come-from-behind victory over the Phillies in the NLCS, and a four-game sweep of the Yankees. The 1976 Reds led the Major Leagues in ten offensive, defensive and pitching categories (runs scored, doubles, triples, home runs, batting average, slugging average, stolen bases, fewest errors, fielding percentage and saves), a domination that has never been matched.

The Big Red Machine also dominated the awards voting in the 1970s—the starting eight won six MVP awards, 26 Gold Gloves, and earned 63 All-Star selections. In addition, the team set attendance records, topping the two million mark for the first time in 1973, and establishing the single-season mark of 2,630,000 in 1976.

But the Big Red Machine would never win another title. A series of unpopular moves gutted the team. Perez was traded in 1977; Anderson was fired after the 1978 season and Rose was let go as a free agent. Although the Reds acquired Tom Seaver in 1977, and won a division crown under new Manager John McNamara in 1979, the Big Red Machine era was over. But Howsam, Anderson and the "Great Eight" left a legacy that will never be forgotten, and - in the era of high-priced free agency - may never be equaled.

The Reds went on a roller-coaster ride in the 1980s, both on and off the field. They had the best record in baseball in 1981, but did not appear in the post-season because of an odd split-season format necessitated by a mid-year strike. The Reds finished second in both halves of the season, and were thus ineligible for post-season play. The Reds sunk to last in 1982, losing over 100 games (101) for the first time in club history. The unpopular Dick Wagner, who had replaced Howsam in 1978, was fired and Howsam returned to run the club. He restored fan enthusiasm when he brought Pete Rose back to Cincinnati in 1984 as player/manager and signed the Reds first significant free agent, Dave Parker.

In late 1984, Marge Schott purchased the Reds and quickly established herself as the clubs' number one booster. She became a very visible and popular owner, signing hundreds of autographs at home games from her seat behind the Reds dugout.

Rose provided a moment for the ages at Riverfront Stadium in 1985 when he stroked "4,192", breaking Ty Cobb's Major League record. Rose also proved to be an inspired choice for manager. He developed several young players, including Barry Larkin, Eric Davis and Paul O'Neill, and led the Reds to four consecutive second-place division finishes.

One of his young pitchers, Tom Browning, produced one memorable night at Riverfront on September 16, 1988 when he pitched the first perfect game in Reds history.

But Rose hit rock-bottom in the summer of 1989 when Major League baseball investigated him for gambling on baseball. The commissioner's office and Rose eventually negotiated a settlement for a lifetime ban from the sport, with a provision for reinstatement after one year (although no finding was made with regard to the gambling charges).

The decade began with one of the most remarkable seasons in Reds history. New Manager Lou Pinella inherited Rose's young talent and General Manager Bob Quinn made several successful trades, adding Randy Myers, Hal Morris and Billy Hatcher. The Reds broke out of the gate with nine straight wins and never lost the lead in the NL West, making them the first club to go wire-to-wire in a 162-game season. Jose Rijo, Tom Browning and Jack Armstrong led the starters; Rand Myers combined with Rob Dibble and Norm Charlton to form the "Nasty Boys," baseball's most dominating bullpen. Eric Davis, Chris Sabo, Paul O'Neill and Barry Larkin led the offense. After edging the Pirates in a tense six-game NLCS, highlighted by the tremendous outfield defense of Cincinnati, the Reds shocked baseball by sweeping the favored Oakland A's. Led by Jose Rijo's two wins - he was named Series MVP - and the hitting of Sabo and Hatcher, the Reds pulled off one of the biggest upsets in World Series history.

The Reds open the 1990s by sweeping the mighty Oakland A's 4-0 to earn their only World Series championship of the decade.

Barry Larkin

But Pinella was unable to win another title and he was replaced in 1993 by the popular Tony Perez. But after the Reds stumbled out of the gate, the new General Manager, Jim Bowden, announced Perez' firing after just 44 games, and the hiring of Davey Johnson. It was a rough baptism for the young Bowden, but he quickly established himself as one of the most successful GMs in baseball. In an era of booming payrolls, the small-market Reds found it difficult to compete with their better-financed brethren. Cost-cutting moves in the 1980s had left the Reds' farm system depleted, and so Bowden turned to free agents and trades to build the team. In 1994, the Reds were in first place when the owners ended the season early in a labor dispute, and canceled the post-season.

In 1995, the National League was divided into three divisons, and the Reds won the new NL Central. The Reds swept the Dodgers in the first round of the playoffs, but were swept by the Braves in the NLCS. Shortstop Barry Larkin was named the league's MVP that season, after batting .319 with 15 homers and 51 stolen bases.

In 1996, Larkin surpassed his 1995 performance as he became the first shortstop in Major League history to hit 30 or more homers and steal 30 or more bases in a single season. After surpassing the 30 stolen base mark, Barry made history on September 22 vs. St. Louis, when he blasted his 30th homer of the season in the 5th inning.

In late-1990s the Reds began to focus on developing younger players, and suffered through a rebuilding period. Veteran Jack McKeon was hired to guide these new-look Reds. Bowden added Sean Casey, Dmitri Young, Danny Graves, Denny Neagle, Michael Tucker, and Mike Cameron and Greg Vaughn in trades and the farm system produced Pokey Reese, Aaron Boone, Bret Tomko and Scott Williamson. With the addition of free agents Pete Harnsich and Steve Parris, the Reds had assembled a team that surprised the experts by winning 96 games and competing for the Central Division title. Although the Reds lost to the Mets in a one-game playoff for a post-season berth, the young talent on the team and in the farm system has the club well-positioned for the Reds' third century of baseball.

The Ohio River Valley, where Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky are situated, has long been known as a land of special promise. For centuries, various American Indian tribes revered the lush valley where several smaller rivers join the Ohio River to be sacred hunting grounds. Indians from throughout the Midwest would travel to what is now Cincinnati to hunt the huge herds of bison and other game that frequented the area.

Word soon spread about this "promised land" as European immigrants began to travel west during the last half of the 18th century. Part of the Northwest Territory ceded to the United States in 1783 by England, the area where Cincinnati now exists was considered among the most fertile land on the continent.

As the only spot along the Ohio River where the steep hills did not come to the river's banks, the area that would become Cincinnati was the natural setting for a great city.

On December 28, 1788, a group of hearty pioneers beached their riverboats directly across the Ohio River from the mouth of Kentucky's Licking River, and Cincinnati was born.

After the Indian threat was ended through fierce fighting in the mid-1790s, Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky grew rapidly. Its dense forests and fertile river valley soil provided area settlers with ample natural resources. The superior river transportation network created by the convergence of the Ohio, Licking, and Great Miami rivers also allowed local surpluses to be shipped to New Orleans for nationwide distribution.

Cincinnati's agricultural riches quickly turned this booming and boisterous river town into the nation's top hog market, earning the city the nickname "Porkopolis" by 1820. A wave of German immigrants also made Cincinnati equally famous for its tasty beer and German heritage, as it became the nation's top beer producing (and consuming) city.

During the riverboat heydays of the 19th century, Cincinnati was among the nation's largest and busiest inland water ports. A major stop for commercial and pleasure vessels traveling down the Ohio to the Mississippi River and New Orleans, Cincinnati's big-city sophistication rivaled that of almost any other city. Its sophistication and growth was so renown that shortly after the Civil War, the New York Times declared Cincinnati to possess the most metropolitan atmosphere of any city outside New York.

So rapid was the growth of Cincinnati that by 1860, it was the sixth-largest U.S. city and the unquestioned manufacturing capital of the nation. When New York Tribune editor Horace Greeley wrote his famous lines in 1850, "Go West young man, and grow up with the country," he was talking about the Midwest and in particular, Cincinnati. Greeley also predicted that, "within 50 years, Cincinnati will become the greatest city on earth."

Such fame, fortune and location prompted many influential people to advocate relocating the U.S. capital to Cincinnati as early as 1830. The movement culminated in 1870 with an actual convention in Cincinnati on moving the nation's capital, where nothing was accomplished and the movement died.

When the riverboat era faded into the railroad age in the late 19th century, Cincinnati also relinquished its title as the center of westward migration and growth. Although it remained a prosperous city, gone forever was Cincinnati's dream of becoming the world's greatest metropolis as giants such as Chicago and St. Louis mushroomed on the western frontier.

As other cities were expanding in the pioneer spirit Cincinnati long discarded, the city matured. The "Queen City of the West" (a title made popular by poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in 1854) embraced its dominant German culture by creating large annual cultural festivals and erecting nationally famous cultural institutions like Music Hall, Cincinnati Art Museum, and the Cincinnati Art Academy in the late 1800s.

Cincinnati had slipped from sixth to ninth place in population by 1900, but it remained one of the nation's most important cities. A world manufacturing leader in numerous industries such as printing materials, shoes, leather goods, machine tools and soap, Greater Cincinnati's labor force paid one-sixth of the first national tax bill when Federal income tax began in 1916.

The city gained the world's spotlight once again in the early 1930s when Cincinnati had the distinction of opening the world's largest municipal airport (Lunken Airport) and train terminal (Union Terminal). With its manufacturing clout in place, Cincinnati played a key role in the World War II effort by producing fighter plane engines and other critical war materials.

Today, Greater Cincinnati finds itself a thriving, mid-sized city that continues to be a leader in many business and cultural affairs. Cincinnati is once again among the country's fastest growing cities, and it is attracting world attention with its rapidly expanding airport and unusually strong foreign export market.

Always a city with tremendous community pride, Cincinnati grandly observed its 200th birthday in 1988 with a year-long celebration that saw citizens volunteer more than one million hours and $69 million. As part of the celebration, an expansive city park was dedicated at the spot where the city founders landed.

REDS 2000 Reds' Uniforms Over the Years

History of the Reds' uniform, courtesy of Mark Okkonen.

The Reds began the 1900 season with the oldest tradition in professional baseball, dating back to 1869. Their uniforms were basically a continuation of the 1890s, white at home, and dark, musty blue on the road. The caps were the standard close-fitting round style with a short bill. Red piping was used on the seams leading up to the red top button and around the base of the crown. A red "C" was also added to the front of the cap around 1900.

The home uniform in the first decade of the 1900s was always white and displayed either "CINCINNATI" or variations of a capital "C" on the left breast - a precursor of the standard emblem of future decades.

On the road, the city name "CINCINNATI" was continued on the chest in red capital letters on the gray or blue uniforms. By 1908, the standard block letters were replaced by a fancier style, and the cap was a solid red with white piping and no "C." This cap was also worn at home along with a solid red collar. In 1909, the darker blue road uniform returned, but instead of "CINCINNATI," a large fancy-style red "C" was positioned on the left breast as well as a smaller "C" on the sleeves and on the cap - a sort of "reverse" image of the previous white home uniform.

After 1910, several notable new trends in uniform design had become fashionable - the standard shirt collar was replaced by a short stand-up "cadet" style and subsequently by a tapered collar extension or no collar at all. Stirrup-type outer stockings were used in place of the one-piece color stockings - certainly a practical improvement in terms of daily laundering requirements.

Pin-striped fabrics in various widths and color combinations became common. Team nicknames were being accepted as "official" by the clubs and began to appear on the uniform jerseys. The very first version of the now famous team logo made its appearance in 1911; the name "REDS" inside an ornate, scalloped "wishbone-style" capital "C." Red striping was also introduced around the button lapel and along the edge of the "cadet" style collar. A smaller capital "C" was placed on the sleeve and the home cap was solid red. By 1913, the "cadet" collar was modified and the C-REDS logo was also included on the left breast of the darker road suits. This combination of red-on-blue has to be one of the homeliest outfits ever worn by a baseball team.

Within a few years, good taste must have prevailed because the road uniforms reverted to a more conventional gray version of the home whites. Those dark blue road uniforms never again appeared on a Red player. By the end of the decade, the Reds' logo had been established as a standard design and remained basically unaltered through the entire decade of the twenties. About the only features that changed at all during this long run of uniform design were to be the alternate use of pin-striped fabrics, evolutionary modification to the collar shape and trim and the return to a dark solid cap in the late twenties.

The team's first World Championship in 1919 (tainted though it was by the infamous "Black Sox" scandal) must have convinced club management that they had a "winning" year. The uniforms for most Major League teams during the "roaring twenties" were, likewise, generally plain and conservative. Oddly enough, it took a stock market crash and the onset of a prolonged depression to trigger a new flurry of ideas and colorful innovations in baseball uniforms.

By 1930, the Reds, like most of the other clubs, were breaking out of the rut of repetitive, plain uniforms. Pinstripes were "out", and white or gray cap crowns with solid red bill were "in." The name "CINCINNATI" was restored to the gray road jerseys in red capital letters with a thin navy outline piping.

By the mid-thirties, combinations of blue and white stripes were added to the solid red of the stockings, and the piping trim in the uniform was embellished by multiple beads and combinations of red and navy blue. In 1935, "REDS" was added to the sleeves of the road jersey and marked one of the very few occasions when the full team name (city plus nickname) was displayed on any Major League uniform.

By 1936, the predominance of the color red on the uniform trimmings had given way to equal billing for navy blue. The cap bill, the undersweaters, the sox, and even the C-REDS logo incorporated navy. The overall appearance was brighter, in keeping with the multi-color trimmings of many of the other club uniforms. This inclusion of navy blue was to remain an integral part of the color scheme for the next twenty years.

Cincinnati introduced night baseball to the world in 1935. The following season, they experimented with a radically different uniform design referred to as the "Palm Beach" uniforms. All piping trim was removed and the C-REDS emblem was replaced by a REDS in script lettering on the left breast of the jersey. They wore this uniform only occasionally in 1936 and 1937 and, for some night games, they even included solid red trousers.

This orgy of new graphics and extra color trimmings peaked out by 1938. The "CINCINNATI" on the road grays was still done in fancy-style block letters, but the socks were no longer multi-striped and the piping trim was somewhat toned down. The white or gray cap crown was replaced by solid navy with a red bill and a red "wishbone C."

For the 1939 season, austerity made a dramatic comeback on the Reds uniforms. All piping was eliminated, the socks were a plain half-red, half-navy combination and "CINCINNATI" on the road grays was restored to plain block capital letters - all red with no outline trim.

The navy blue background and white trim were retained on the C-REDS emblem on the home whites and remained constant through the mid-fifties.

Could the superstition of once again not wanting to alter a "winner" be the reason why this basic uniform motif remained unchanged for the next 16 years? A second and third pennant in 1939-40, plus a "bon afide" World Series Championship in '40, would lend credence to this supposition. This long run of stable, conservative uniforms climaxed in the early fifties. The navy blue on the socks and sweaters was gone and the combination red and navy cap was replaced by your basic solid navy cap. The pendulum of design was ready to wing back to something more adventurous.

The anti-communist hysteria of the McCarthy era contributed to what is, in retrospect, an embarrassingly silly decision on the part of the Cincinnati Baseball Club.

After nearly 80 years of being identified as the Reds or Red Stockings - a fact which had absolutely no political or international overtones, and is as purely and innocently American as hotdogs and Crackerjacks - it was determined that the name REDS was detrimental to the organization and to baseball.

To their credit, a thread of tradition was retained by compromising on a harmless corruption of the team nickname, henceforth, they were to be called the REDLEGS.

In cadence with this new image, the team uniforms for 1956 underwent the most drastic overhaul in nearly 20 years. Navy blue was abandoned entirely as red became the sole color of the uniform trim (another plus for the salvation of long tradition). The name REDS was no longer displayed on the home uniforms after 45 years.

The most novel feature (not a first - the Cubs were the originals in 1940) was the sleeveless vest jersey. The stockings were still red, but with narrow white stripes. The caps were solid red with a white "wishbone C" and even the belts were red. The undershirt sleeves were solid red (when not cut off at the shoulder a la Ted Kluszewski). The gray road uniforms were identical to the home whites except for the baseball head cartoon face ("Old Red") which replaced the wishbone C on the left breast. The sleeveless vest won approval from the players (the Pirates "followed suit" in '57) and remained a uniform feature until the mid-60s.

As if to further underscore the all-scarlet theme, all red stockings were restored and red pinstripes were added to the home whites the following year. The solid red cap was also replaced by a white or gray cap crown (to match the jersey) for 1957. A touch of navy blue reappeared in 1961 as piping rim on the vest sleeves holes and around the "C" on the cap. Also, as if to signify the end of the "Redlegs" era, a modified oval version of the C-REDS emblem returned to the home jersey front (with a navy blue background as in the last version.)

The city name "CINCINNATI" was also restored on the road gray uniform in arched red capital letters with a thin navy outline. The sleeveless vest era produced a fourth pennant (1961), but this time the uniform design was not destined for a long run.

By the mid sixties, a couple of future Cincinnati legends had arrived (Pete Rose and Johnny Bench) and the nucleus of the future Big Red Machine had its beginnings.

The sleeveless jersey was displaced by a conventional short sleeved model, and navy blue once again was eliminated as a second color. The gray road uniform was basically a revival of the early fifties, except the cap was now solid red instead of navy, and a uniform number appeared on the jersey front.

The first years of the revival of the short-sleeved home jersey retained the red pinstripes but, by 1970, (Sparky Anderson's first pennant winner and the inaugural season of Riverfront Stadium) the home uniform was plain white.

For 1972, Cincinnati joined the rest of the majors in adopting the new double-knit fabric uniform with its revolutionary features. Lighter, cooler, more comfortable and easier to clean - it was the uniform of the future - and the future for Cincinnati baseball spelled glory and championships.

The famous C-REDS emblem was retained as was the all-red trim motif. But with the new built-in sash belt and pull-over jersey, buttons and belts were no longer needed. Red and white striping trim was added to the sleeve ends and collar as well as on the new sash belt.

In spring training of 1978, the Reds jolted the baseball world by stepping onto the field with all-green uniforms for an exhibition game on March 17 (St. Patrick's Day, of course). After a century of basically red-trimmed uniforms, this novelty version had the same curious visual shock value as Andy Warhol's non-red Coca-Cola art. It was all in fun, and the fans loved it. These hybrid uniforms were afterwards auctioned off for charity, and have since become prized collector's items.

The Reds continued their basic white uniform through most of the 1980s, although in 1986, added an optional solid red jersey with "CINCINNATI" spelled out. The Reds added stripes down both sides of the trousers in 1988, and this would be the look for the next several years, including the 1990 World Championship club.

In 1993, the club reintroduced pinstripes, belts and a sleeveless home vest. Both the home white and road gray jersey featured red pinstripes on tops and trousers. The home sleeveless jersey featured the traditional Reds C-LOGO on the left breast, with the uniform number adjacent on the right breast. A solid red undershirt, both short sleeve and long, featured a solid white "wishbone C" logo on the upper left portion of the sleeve.

The home cap in 1993 also underwent a distinct change. The white cap featured red pinstripes and a solid red bill with a solid red "wishbone C" logo. The road cap remained solid red with a white "wishbone C" logo.

The Reds would not make another major uniform change until the 1999 season. The addition of black to the uniform was the most distinctive change. Black was added as a drop-shadow to the traditional "C-LOG", and was also featured on the bill of the home cap (solid red with a white wishbone C and black drop shadow), and as the base color for the road cap (red bill with a white wishbone C and black drop shadow).

The Reds also introduced the "Running Man" logo into the uniform. Both a solid red and solid black undershirt featured the "Running Man" on the upper portion of the left sleeve. Player names and uniform numbers featured solid red letters and number, with white and black drop shadows.

For the 2000 season, the Reds will replace the "Running Man" logo on the left sleeve of the undershirt with a new "Running Man" logo that will incorporate the anniversary of the club's 10th and 25th World Series titles.

Chris Sabo, 1990

Danny Graves, 1999

The Reds will celebrate two anniversaries in 2000. It is the 10th anniversary of their 1990, four-game World Series sweep of the Oakland A's, and the 25th anniversary of their seven-game World Series victory over the Boston Red Sox in 1975.

Since 1900, 1432 players have appeared with the club in at least one Major League season.

1 Fred Hutchinson

Born: August 12, 1919 at Seattle, WA
Died: November 12, 1964 at Bradenton, FL
Number retired in 1965

Fred Hutchinson was a popular and successful manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Hutch's 466 managerial victories and .543 winning percentage rank him among the best managers ever to wear a Cincinnati uniform. The Reds exceeded the 90-win mark in three of his six seasons at the helm, and in 1961 they took the National League pennant.

But the joy of a first-place finish was matched only three years later by the sadness of Hutch's illness and early death. The courage, class and determination that Fred exemplified all his life were all the more evident during his battle with cancer. Hutch stepped down as Reds' manager in 1964, and died that November.

The following year, Hutch's uniform (#1) became the first one in Cincinnati Reds' history to be retired.

Today, Fred Hutchinson's legacy lives on in the world-renowned Cancer Research Center that bears his name, and in The Hutch Award. It is given annually to a Major League ballplayer who "best exemplifies the character and fighting spirit of the late Fred Hutchinson...who overcomes any form of adversity." Past winners include Ray Knight, Ron Oester, Eric Davis, Bobby Tolan and Johnny Bench.

5 Johnny Bench

Born: December 7, 1947 at Oklahoma City, OK
Number Retired: August 11, 1984

Cincinnati's uniform #5 belongs to perhaps the greatest catcher to ever play in the Major Leagues. The standard by which all other catchers are measured, Johnny Bench ended his 17-year storied career in 1983 after earning two MVP Awards, 10 Gold Gloves and 14 trips to the All-Star Game. Bench was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989.

Bench began his career with a bang, earning Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1968. Able to control a game on both sides of the plate, he ended his career with a .267 average and 389 homers (327 as a catcher, which stands as a record for NL catchers).

On the Reds' all-time batting list, Bench ranks first in homers and RBI (1,376), second in runs (1,091), extra-base hits (794) and total bases (3,644), third in hits (2,048) and doubles (381).

Johnny appeared in 22 National League Championship Series games and 23 World Series games. Bench earned World Series MVP honors in 1976 when the Reds swept the NY Yankees, four games to none. He twice led the league in home runs (1970 with 45, and 1972 with 40), and three times in RBI (1970 with 148, 1972 with 125, and 1974 with 129).

Riverfront/Cinergy Highlights

 The Reds post their first win in Riverfront Stadium's second game (July 1, 1970), downing the Atlanta Braves, 9-2. Tommy Helms becomes the first Red to homer at the new park.

 Just two weeks after the stadium opened, Riverfront is the site for baseball's All-Star game (July 14, 1970). The National League scores a dramatic 5-4 victory in 12 innings as Pete Rose crashes into American League catcher Ray Fosse to score the winning run on Jim Hickman's RBI single. Rose was joined in the mid-summer classic by teammates Johnny Bench, Jim Merritt, Tony Perez and Wayne Simpson.

 Tony Perez becomes the first player to homer into the upper level Red Seats at Riverfront with a blast into left field off the Mets' Jim McAndrew on August 11, 1970.

 The Reds edge Pittsburgh, 3-2 on October 5, 1970, to complete a three-game sweep of the Pirates in the National League Championship Series and win their first league pennant since 1961.

 Chicago's Ken Holtzman pitches the first no-hitter at Riverfront on June 3, 1971, winning 1-0 over the Reds.

 Cinergy Field takes on a "field-lift," as new artificial surface is put in place in early March of 1997. It marks the first time the artificial turf has been replaced since prior to the start of the 1988 season.

 The Reds retire three uniforms in 1998, all to be placed on the left field wall at Cinergy Field. Frank Robinson's uniform #20 (May 22), Joe Morgan's uniform #8 (June 6) and Ted Kluszewski's uniform #18 (July 18) join Fred Hutchinson and Johnny Bench as the only numbers retired in the club's history.

National League Record*

In a 22-3 victory at Philadelphia on September 4, the Reds became the first team in National League history to hit 9 homers in a game and the first team in Major League history to have 8 players homer in a game (pictured right in a photo taken the next day) ...the Major League record of 10 homers in a game was established by Toronto vs Baltimore on 9/4/87...the 9 homers were hit by Eddie Taubensee (2), Pokey Reese, Dmitri Young, Greg Vaughn, Aaron Boone, Mark Lewis, Jeffrey Hammonds and Brian Johnson...the bat used by and the ball hit by Lewis, who as the eighth player hit the ninth homer, were sent to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum for display...were the highest home run and runs totals ever recorded by a visiting team at Veterans Stadium ...the photo at right includes the 8 players who hit the 9 homers: front row, left to right, Taubensee, Reese, Hammonds; second row, left to right, Boone, Lewis, Johnson, Vaughn, Young.

One Perfect Night

On September 16, 1988, LHP Tom Browning tossed the only perfect game in Cincinnati Reds' history, when he retired all 27 batters faced in a 1-0 Reds' victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was only the 14th perfect game (9.0 innings or more) in Major League history, just the 3rd in modern National League history, and the first no-hitter by a Red since since Tom Seaver blanked the Cardinals on June 16, 1978 (4-0).

Browning's perfect game capped off an incredible season in which he posted an 18-5 record, including a 16-2 mark after June 6.

Game 1 @ Cin. - Reds 2 - Mets 1: Tom Seaver set a league playoff record by striking out 13 Reds, but after seven superb scoreless innings, he allowed a solo homer to Pete Rose in the 8th, and another solo blast to Johnny Bench in the 9th.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Mets 5 - Reds 0: Jon Matlack pitched a two-hitter and struck out nine batters, as the Reds were blanked for the first time in NLCS play.

Game 3 @ NY - Mets 9 - Reds 2: Rusty Staub homered in his first two times to the plate, to lead Jerry Koosman to an easy 9-2 victory ...The game was marred twice by bench-clearing brawls, triggered when Pete Rose slid into Bud Harrelson at second base in the 5th.

Game 4 @ NY - Reds 2 - Mets 1: Pete Rose hit a home run off Harry Parker in the 12th inning, to give the Reds a 2-1 victory, evening the series at 2-2 ...Tony Perez tied the game at 1-1 in the 6th, with his first homer of the NLCS.

Game 5 @ NY - Mets 7 - Reds 2: Tom Seaver, a victim of non-support most of the regular season, was backed by a 13-hit attack as he out-pitched Cincinnati ace Jack Billingham ...The Mets broke the game open with a four-run 5th inning en route to their second pennant.

1919 Series Rocked By Scandal

In the end, the rumors would be true. Following the 1919 "Black Sox Scandal," two members of the Chicago White Sox made tearful confessions to a Cook County grand jury that they had indeed been involved in a scheme to throw the 1919 World Series. That day, Eddie Cicotte and Shoeless Joe Jackson told the story of accepting a large amount of cash, presumably supplied by known gambler Arnold Rothstein, that would be split by eight members of the Sox.

Pitcher Cicotte, outfielder Jackson, third baseman Buck Weaver, center fielder Oscar (Happy) Felsch, first baseman Arnold (Chick) Gandil, utility infielder Fred McMullin, shortstop Charles (Swede) Risberg and pitcher Claude (Lefty) Williams had conspired with gamblers to throw the Series, and thus entered the history books as the infamous "Black Sox."

None of the players were convicted in court, but all eight were banned from the game for life by the first commissioner of baseball, former Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who was hired to clean up America's growing favorite past-time.

The supposed involvement of certain players was something of a mystery in its own right. Weaver, who had known about the conspiracy from the beginning, refused to take part and batted .324 in the Series. He was banned for not exposing his teammates.

Jackson, who admited taking $5,000, batted .375 with a homer and 6 RBI.

But, there were those who were as guilty as sin.

Risberg committed four errors and batted .080, but did not receive a cent. Gandil - the organizer of the scam - on the other hand, walked away with $30,000 and immediately announced his retirement. Cicotte lost two of his three starts and earned a $10,000 payday. He later told the grand jury it was not worth the effort.

Hickman, a former outfielder and first baseman, played 13 Major-League seasons from 1962-74, making stops in New York (NL), Los Angeles, Chicago (NL), and St. Louis. Hickman ripped the RBI single in the 1970 All-Star Game which sent Pete Rose into his famous game-ending collision at home plate with catcher Ray Fosse. He also enjoyed a three-homer game for the Mets in 1965. Jim and his wife, Nita, have four sons, Jim Jr., Bill, Joe, and Mike.

Brook Jacoby - Hitting Instructor

Originally selected by Atlanta in the June 1979 draft, Jacoby went on to play 11 Major-League seasons. The former third baseman played most of his career with Cleveland, where he was a two-time American League All-Star (1986 and 1990). His best season came in 1987, when he set career highs with a .300 BA and 32 home runs, the most by an Indians' third baseman since Al Rosen led the American League with 43 in 1953. Brook, 40, resides in Scottsdale, AZ with his wife, Pamela, and three children, Brook III (13), Torrey (11) and Sierra (5).

Brian Koelling - Infield Instructor

Brian Koelling joins the Reds for his first year as an infield instructor. Originally drafted by the Reds in the June 1991 draft, Koelling went on to play seven minor-league seasons (five with the Reds). He saw his only Major-League action in 1993, playing in seven games with Cincinnati. Brian, 30, resides in Cleves, OH with his wife, Jenny, and two children, Kyle (2) and Tyler (six months).

Originally selected by San Diego in the ninth round of the June 1984 draft, McCray played 10 professional seasons, including brief Major-League stints with Chicago (AL) in 1990-91 and New York (NL) in 1992. McCray, 36, began his professional coaching career in 1994 as an outfield/hitting coach for independent Lethbridge of the Pioneer League. He went on to scout for San Diego in 1996 before returning to the coaching ranks in 1997 with Class-A West Palm Beach in the Montreal system. Prior to his coordinator position, Scott managed five seasons at Billings (rookie), winning Pioneer-League championships from 1992-94 and 1997. He was named the Pioneer League's Manager of the Year in 1993. A former catcher, Scott, 38, spent parts of six seasons in the majors with Texas, Seattle and the Reds. 1999 No. 1 Draft Selection

LHP - TY HOWINGTON
Hudson's Bay High School; Vancouver, WA

The Reds selected left-handed pitcher Ty Howington (6-5, 220) with their first-round pick (14th overall) in the June amateur free agent draft. A graduate of Hudson's Bay High School in Vancouver, WA, Howington was rated by Baseball America as the top left-handed pitching prospect in the draft. During his senior season, playoffs included, Howington went 12-3 with a 1.62 ERA. He struck out 149 batters while allowing only 24 walks in 84.0 innings pitched. The highlight of his outstanding senior year came during a Class-4A semi-final game, when he struck out 17 batters, including the first 10 of the game, to lead his team past top-ranked Columbia River. "We were ecstatic to find Howington still available when we made our selection," said Director of Scouting, DeJon Watson. "We consider him the best left-handed pitcher in the draft and look forward to adding him to our prospering minor-league system."

History of the Draft

The game of baseball was at a crossroads in 1964. The game's wealthier teams were buying up amateur talent at such a staggering pace, that the competitive balance of the game was in jeopardy.

The more clubs spent foolishly on raw, unproven amateur talent, the less there became to assist a sagging player-development system. Once rich and self-sustaining, baseball's minor-league clubs had dwindled from 460 teams in 1949, to just 121 clubs by 1964.

By overspending on amateur talent and underspending to develop that talent, baseball was cutting its own throat.

That's why the 1964 season ushered in a new way for clubs to seek out talent. Some of the game's highest-ranking officials instituted a much-debated and much-awaited ammateur draft system.

The purpose of the draft would be to stop the upward spiral of excessive bonuses paid to amateurs and to more evenly distribute the available talent to Major League-clubs.

Baseball's "free agent" draft would function in a manner similar to that of the National Football League and National Basketball League drafts.

All eligible talent was placed in a pool with every team making a selection. When a team picked a player, it gained exclusive rights to negotiate with that player. In 1965, the Oakland Athletics made Rick Monday the game's first drafted player.

When the draft was first introduced, clubs selected three times a year (January 15, June 1, and September 1), and were only allowed to draft permanent residents of the United States.

The entire January draft and second phase of the June draft were discontinued following the 1986 season, when all previously drafted players were included with newly eligible players in the June draft.

Indianapolis Indians - AAA

(75-69, 2nd place in International League West Division)

The Indians opened the season with a four-game sweep of the Toledo Mud Hens and became only the third team in club history to start the season 4-0. Just four days later, however, the Tribe dropped into second place where they remained for the rest of the year.

D.T. Cromer made club history, becoming just the third Indian to hit over .300 with at least 30 HR and 100 RBI (Champ Summers accomplished the feat in 1978). Cromer finished 16th in the International League with a .310 average, third with 30 HR and third with 107 RBI. He also ranked second in total bases (301) and extra-base hits (71), third in slugging percentage (.563), fourth in hits (166) and fifth in doubles (37). He earned mid and post-season All-Star honors.

Denny Harriger was the club's most valuable starting pitcher. He led the league and became the first Indian since 1973 to record 14 wins. Closer Todd Williams was a bright spot in the first half of the season. He recorded 24 saves before being traded to Seattle on July 22. Along with ranking third in the league, Williams became the Indians all-time saves leader with 52.

Manager Dave Miley recorded the 800th win of his career and became just the sixth manager in Indians' history to record over 300 wins (314-261).

Chattanooga Lookouts - AA

(1st Half: 37-33; 2nd Half: 41-29)

In 1999, the Lookouts played their final season at Historic Engel Stadium, their home since 1930. Their final game, on September 10th, was a 5-2 loss to West Tennessee in the first round of the Southern League playoffs. Chattanooga finished behind West Tennessee in both the first and second half of play, but qualified for the post-season with the best overall record of the remaining teams in the Western Division.

Brady Clark became the first Lookout to win the Southern League MVP. The 26-year-old claimed the league's batting title with a .326 average. He also ranked among the league leaders with 165 hits (2nd), 103 runs scored (2nd), a .425 on-base percentage (2nd), 58 extra-base hits (T3rd) and a .516 slugging percentage (5th). Along the way, he earned the Topps Southern League Player of the Month for July.

Clark was the only Lookout on the Southern League's post-season All-Star Team, but the squad was well represented on the mid-season team. Chattanooga had five players (LHP Jim Crowell, OF Wonderful Monds, RHP John Riedling, 1B Chris Saunders and 2B Jason Williams) in the Southern League All-Star Game.

The 1999 season was the first full campaign for infielder Brandon Larson since he was the Reds' first-round pick in 1997. After two injury-plagued years, Larson got stronger as the 1999 campaign progressed. He led the Southern League with nine home runs and 28 RBI in the month of August. After returning from his play with the silver-medal winning Team USA at the Pan Am Games, Travis Dawkins led the league with a .390 average during August.

RHP Pat Flury, who split the year between Chattanooga and Indianapolis, led all of minor league baseball with 64 appearances.

Rockford Reds - A

(1st Half: 45-24; 2nd Half: 31-39)

After starting the season with a record of 4-9, Rockford won 18 of their next 22 and 33 of their next 44 games en route to a first half title in the Midwest League Central Division. The Reds finished the first half with a record of 45-24, four games ahead of the competition.

RHP David Therneau won his first eight decisions of the year, not suffering a loss until May 25th. The 23-year-old finished 12-3 before being promoted to Chattanooga and eventually Indianapolis. Before leaving, he logged enough innings to qualify for the league title with his 2.58 ERA.

Therneau was joined by teammates Andy Burress (OF), Brandon Larson (IF), Corky Miller (C) and Robert Averette (RHP) in the 1999 Midwest League All-Star Game. Each player was promoted to Chattanooga at some point during the second half of the season.

Therneau anchored a pitching staff that led the Midwest League with 18 shutouts and was second with 16 complete games. The team also had the top ERA in the league for much of the season before falling into the middle of the pack at the end of the year.

The Reds' first two picks in the 1998 draft put together solid seasons to lead the offensive attack. First-round pick Austin Kearns hit .258 with 13 HR, 48 RBI and 21 stolen bases in 124 games. Second-round pick Adam Dunn hit .307 with 11 HR, 44 RBI and 21 stolen bases in 93 games.

Shortstop Travis Dawkins was named to the Midwest League's post-season All-Star Team. In just 76 games, he stole 38 bases. Rockford led the Midwest League with 227 stolen bases.

Clinton Lumberkings - A

(1st Half: 41-27; 2nd Half: 27-42)

In the first half, the Lumberkings won the Midwest League's Western Division by 3.5 games and qualified for post-season play. There, they fell to the Burlington Bees two games to one in the first round.

RHP Brandon Puffer highlighted the Midwest League's top pitching staff. The Lumberkings' closer notched 34 saves, best in the league and second in all of minor league baseball. Puffer finished third in the 1999 National Association Rolaids Relief Man Standings with 100 points.

The entire staff put together a league-best team ERA of 3.91. RHP Terry Hayden finished 2nd in the league with a 2.70 ERA. RHP Phil Merrell tossed three shutouts in just 16 starts before being promoted to Chattanooga and subsequentially Indianapolis.

The offense was built around speed. Just one player had more than 10 home runs, but four players collected double-digit stolen bases. Shortstop Wilmy Caceres finished third in the Midwest League with 52 thefts.

Puffer, Merrell and IF Jamie Goudie represented the Lumberkings at the mid-summer, Midwest League All-Star Game. Puffer was also named to the league's post-season All-Star Team.

Billings Mustangs - Rookie

(1st Half: 22-16; 2nd Half: 20-17)

It is not too often that a 2nd round draft pick is selected in June and featured in Sports Illustrated by September. But, in 1999, that is exactly what happened to the Reds' pick, Ben Broussard.

Broussard began his assault on professional pitching with the Billings Mustangs. In just 38 games, he hit .407 with 14 HR and 48 RBI. He reached base safely in all 38 games as part of a 44-game streak to begin his professional career. At the time of his promotion to Clinton, the 22-year-old was leading the Pioneer League in batting average, home runs, hits (59), on-base percentage (.527), slugging percentage (.800) and extra-base hits (27). He was second in RBI and 5th with 39 runs scored. On July 12th, Broussard set a Pioneer League record with 11 RBI and 16 total bases in one game. He went 5-for-5 with three home runs and two doubles. In his final plate appearance that night, with the bases empty, he was intentionally walked.

Offense proved to be the strength of the team. Billings led the league with 70 HR and was 2nd with a .287 team batting average. First baseman and 9th round pick, Casey Bookout, led the Pioneer League with a .363 batting average. Despite having his season cut short by injury, Bookout still finished among league leaders with 14 HR (4th) and 63 RBI (3rd). Outfielder Mark Burnett (20th round) ranked 9th with a .326 batting average and 2nd with a .446 on-base percentage. Infielder Jason Huth (26th round) led the league with nine triples.

GCL Reds - Rookie

(23-37 - 6th place in the Gulf Coast League Western Division)

The Reds added a sixth minor-league affiliate to their organization in 1999, the GCL Reds. The Reds played out of the team's spring training complex in Sarasota, FL. The team was comprised mainly of 1999 draft picks and some of the top players from the Reds' new Dominican Summer League team.

The GCL Reds finished with just 23 wins in 60 games played. Due to promotions and injuries throughout the Reds' minor-league system, the GCL roster was consistently in a state of flux. Sixty players appeared in at least one game for Manager Donnie Scott.

Infielders B.J. Hawes and Ranier Olmedo led the club at the plate. Hawes led the club with a .302 batting average and five triples. His 23 runs scored, 11 doubles, 18 RBI and 11 stolen bases ranked second on the club to Olmedo. Olmedo led the team with 30 runs scored, 12 doubles, 19 RBI and 13 stolen bases.

Jose Valdez, with a record of 3-3, a 1.96 ERA and two saves, led the pitching staff. He finished just a few innings short of qualifying for the league's ERA title. Valdez started six games and finished six games in his 12 appearances.

Reds Broadcasters

Marty Brennaman and Joe Nuxhall return for their 27th season together on the Reds Radio Network. The Reds Radio Network is one of the largest in professional sports, with 54 affiliates in five states. The flagship station is WLW (AM 700) in Cincinnati. All regular season games are aired on WLW.

Reds radio announcer Marty Brennaman will receive the Ford C. Frick Award in ceremonies on July 23 at the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY. The award is presented each year by the National Baseball Hall of Fame to a broadcaster "for major contributions to the game of baseball". Brennaman and Red Barber (WSAI, 1934-38) are the only Reds announcers ever to receive the Hall of Fame's prestigious broadcasting award. He is in his 36th year as a broadcaster. Brennaman joined the Reds radio team in 1974 and for the past 27 seasons has shared the 700 WLW Radio booth with Reds Hall of Fame pitcher Joe Nuxhall.

Marty Brennaman

Joe Nuxhall, a former Reds pitcher and member of the Reds Hall of Fame, is in his 34th year as a Reds announcer. Joe pitched for 16 years in the big leagues (1944, 1952-66), including 15 years with the Reds. In 1944 he became the youngest player ever to appear in the Major Leagues, at the age of 15 - a record that still stands. Joe began his broadcasting career with the Reds in 1967.

Joe Nuxhall

For the next five seasons, FOX Sports Net will hold the exclusive local cable and telecast rights for Cincinnati Reds baseball. FOX Sports Net will cablecast 85 games in 2000.

George Grande, a 32-year veteran of the broadcasting business, has been the play-by-play voice on Reds TV since 1993. A native of New Haven, CT, George has covered Major League Baseball since 1965. He also anchored the first-ever ESPN SportsCenter telecast on September 7, 1979.

Chris Welsh, who pitched in the big leagues from 1981-83 and 1985-86 with the Padres, Expos, Rangers, and Reds, compiled an overall record of 22-31 with a 4.45 ERA in 122 games. Chris made his debut with Reds TV in 1994. The native of Wilmington, DE, is also the writer and publisher of a monthly publication called the "Thinking Pitcher".

Major League Baseball Rules of Interest

Calculating the "Magic Number": Determine the number of games to be played by the team in the lead. Add one to that number. Subtract from that figure the number of games ahead in the loss column from the closest opponent.

Determining Earned Run Average: Multiply earned runs by nine, then divide total by innings pitched.

Determining Batting Average: Divide total hits by total at-bats.

Determine Slugging Percentage: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total number of at-bats.

Determining On-Base Percentage: Divide hits + walks + hit by pitch, by at-bats + walks, + hit by pitch + sac flies.

Determining Fielding Percentage: Divide the total putouts and assists by the total of putouts, assists and errors.

The Winning Pitcher: The starting pitcher will be credited with the win only if the pitcher has pitched at least five complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. EXCEPTION: The "must pitch five complete innings" rule in respect to the starting pitcher shall be in effect for all games of six or more innings. In a five-inning game, credit the starting pitcher with a game won only if he has pitched at least four complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. When the starting pitcher does not meet the preceding criteria and more than one relief pitcher is used, the victory shall be awarded on the following basis:

(1) When, during the tenure of the starting pitcher, the winning team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game, credit the victory to the relief pitcher judged by the official scorer to have been the most effective.

(2) Whenever the score is tied, the game becomes a new contest insofar as the winning and losing pitcher is concerned.

(3) Once the opposing team assumes the lead, all pitchers who have pitched up to that point are excluded from being credited with the victory except the current pitcher.

(4) The winning relief pitcher shall be the one who is the pitcher of record when his team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game. EXCEPTION: Do not credit a victory to a relief pitcher who is ineffective in a brief appearance, when a succeeding relief pitcher pitches effectively in helping his team maintain the lead. In such cases, credit the succeeding relief pitcher with the victory.

Earning a Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all of the following conditions;

(1) He is the pitcher that finished the game won by his team.

(2) He is not the winning pitcher.

(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:

a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or

b. He enters the game, regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run either already on base or is one of the first two batters he faces), or

c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

Assists: An assist shall be credited to each fielder who throws or deflects a batted or thrown ball in such a way that a putout results, or would have resulted except for a subsequent error by a fielder. Only one assist and no more shall be credited to each fielder who throws or deflects the ball in a run-down play which results in a putout, or would have resulted in a putout, except for a subsequent error.

Consecutive Game Hitting Streak: A consecutive game hitting streak shall not be terminated if the player's plate appearance(s) results in a base on balls, hit batter, defensive interference or sac bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sac fly and no hit. Consecutive game hitting streaks do not carry over from season to season.

Consecutive Game Playing Streak: A consecutive game playing streak shall be extended if the player plays one-half inning on defense or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from the game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirement of this rule, the streak shall continue.

Suspended Games: All performance in the completion of a suspended game shall be considered as occurring on the original date of the game.

Rain Delays: Once a game has been temporarily delayed by rain, NL umpires have been instructed to wait at least one hour and 15 minutes before calling the game. They shall wait at least 45 minutes for a second delay and 30 minutes for all subsequent delays.

National League Curfew: There is no curfew in the National League. The game is in the hands of the umpires once it has started.

Major League Year: 172 days of service time constitutes a full year in the Major Leagues.

Rookie Status at The Major League Level: To be considered a rookie, a player must not have more than 130 at-bats, or 50 innings pitched in the Major Leagues during a previous season or seasons, nor more than 45 days on a Major League roster during the Major League 25-player limit (excluding time in the military).

Waiver Regulations: From 30 days after the start of the season, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire. Otherwise, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings at the close of the preceding season. With respect to trades, no waivers are necessary from 5:00pm (ET) the day after the scheduled end of the regular season through July 31. Waivers are necessary from August 1 through the day after the scheduled end of the regular season.

- Did you know that in Hall of Fame voting, Bench is the only catcher to be elected in his 1st year of eligibility?
- The Reds are one of three teams to ever have two consecutive players elected to the Hall of Fame in their first year of eligibility – Bench in '89 and Morgan in '90.
- Former Reds pitcher Tom Seaver received the highest percentage of votes in the history of Hall of Fame voting, earning 98.84% (425 of 430). Bench has the seventh-highest percentage at 96.42% (431 of 447).
- Pérez is the first Cuban-born player to be elected to the Hall of Fame by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Notable Artifacts at the Hall of Fame

- Autographed ball from the game of 9/27/80 (Reds vs. Giants at Candlestick Park) in which Johnny Bench tied Bill Dickey's catcher's record of playing in 100 or more games for 13 consecutive seasons.
